President Calls On Mexico to Fight

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Manuel Avila Camacho was reported authoritatively this afternoon to be preparing a manifesto to the nation demanding Congress declare war against the Axis as a result of the recent sinking of a Mexican tanker off the United States coast.

Barrymore Sick

HOLLYWOOD (CP) — Actor John Barrymore is "very sick" with pneumonia, his physician disclosed today. The movie, stage and radio star, in poor health for several years, was removed to a hospital Tuesday night.

Promote B.C. Fliers

LONDON (CP) — A list of promotions released by R.C.A.F. overseas headquarters today contained the names of 18 officers, including R. C. Weston, Vancouver, from flight lieutenant to squadron leader, and R. B. O'Callaghan of Salt Spring Island, B.C., from flying officer to flight lieutenant.

Ship Torpedoed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy announced this afternoon a medium-sized U.S. merchant vessel had been torpedoed several weeks ago off the northern coast of South America. Survivors have been landed at an Atlantic coast port.

Sgt.-Pilot Davey Reported Missing

Mr. and Mrs. J. Davey, 680 Oliver Street, have received word that their son, Sgt.-Pilot John Vernon (Jack) Davey, R.C.A.F., is reported missing as a result of air operations on May 27.

Sgt.-Pilot Davey enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in October, 1940, and received his wings on July 15, 1941, proceeding overseas in August, 1941, and left England for the Middle East last December. Prior to his enlistment in the air force he served with the 13th Field Ambulance here, and attended camp at Nanaimo. He was educated at Oaklands and Bank Street schools and Oak Bay High School.

Extra Gasoline For Reserve Army

OTTAWA (CP) — Extra gasoline privileges for members of the reserve army for mileage covered on military duty were announced today by the Department of National Defence.

Study Quebec Speech

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister St. Laurent told a questioner in the Commons this afternoon he would examine a speech delivered in Montreal May 19 by Rene Chalouit, member of the Quebec Legislature, to ascertain if any action were required by the officers of his department.

Later Rural Gas Sales

OTTAWA (CP) — The concession to rural residents by which gasoline stations in outlying areas are permitted to remain open until 9 Saturday night will be in effect from now until the end of October, the Munitions and Supply Department said this afternoon.

Gas Masks for All in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Free gas masks will be distributed to all civilians in the U.S. beginning the last of this month under a program of 2,500,000 masks a month, Civilian Defence Director James M. Landis said on his arrival from Washington.

Can Save Normandie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Knox informed President Roosevelt today that the former French liner Normandie could be salvaged. The ship, taken over by the U.S. government for a troop carrier, burned and keeled over on her side at a New York pier.

2 Workers Lose Lives

SPOKANE (AP) — A collapsing wall which loosed an avalanche of wheat today caused the deaths of two workmen in the Centennial Milling Company's warehouse at Fairfield, south-east of here.

D. C. Saylet, 65, warehouse manager, apparently was killed when hit by a heavy timber, and Floyd Simon, 30, was smothered under the wheat.

Chinese Face Major Offensive

Japs Land Near Foochow Create New China Front

CHUNGKING (AP) — Japanese troops have been landed near Foochow, chief port and capital of the east coast province of Fukien, and have engaged in heavy fighting with Chinese forces, the Chinese high command announced today.

The invading force was carried aboard a dozen transports, which made their way up the Min River to a point near the city. The descent on Foochow, a city of 400,000 and largest port between Shanghai and Hongkong, was a southward extension in the series of Japanese attacks which is assuming the character of a major offensive, perhaps designed as an attempt to knock China out of the war.

Foochow was blockaded and bombed by the Japanese in June, 1939. In April, 1941, they invaded the city and moved inland along the river, but met stubborn Chinese resistance and finally withdrew last September.

The new invasion was coupled with a land drive southward in Chekiang province, south of Shanghai, in a determined effort to conquer that zone in which supposed air bases are a threat to Tokyo.

In the far west in Yunnan province, the Chinese reported they had recaptured Kanlanhai, key point on the Lungkang-kiao-Tengyueh highway, and seized large quantities of Japanese war supplies. There was no change in the positions along the Burma road west of the Salween River, and the Chinese said the Yunnan front was becoming stabilized.

The Chekiang drive in the east was along a 150-mile front, with four Japanese spearheads of attack.

A Chinese army spokesman said the Japanese had reached a point about 50 miles from Kinkwa, provisional capital of Chekiang, and that heavy fighting was in progress all along the front.

3,500 Homes Here Fear Oil Burners Must Go

Victorians with oil-burning furnaces and kitchen ranges out of ranges to make room for oil burners, are easily replaced. There are approximately 3,500 oil burners of all kinds in Greater Victoria — 2,200 in Victoria City, 600 in Oak Bay, 300 in Esquimalt and 366 in Saanich.

Oil dealers have not been advised of any shortage. They are unable to say whether an order, when it is given, will affect only crude oil, used in furnaces, or stove oil, used in ranges, as well. Hundreds of persons called oil dealers today to ask what they should do. The dealers were unable to give advice until orders are issued.

Stove stores also did a large business with inquiries. Many people with oil burners made immediate arrangements to have their ranges converted to wood and coal burners. New stoves are scarce; even good, second-hand stoves are few and far between. It is almost impossible to obtain parts. Bricks, taken out of ranges to make room for oil burners, are easily replaced. There are approximately 3,500 oil burners of all kinds in Greater Victoria — 2,200 in Victoria City, 600 in Oak Bay, 300 in Esquimalt and 366 in Saanich.

VANCOUVER'S PROBLEMS
VANCOUVER (CP) — Two thousand homes in Vancouver are expected to be affected by the ban on use of fuel oil for heating purposes.

These homes are heated by oil burning furnaces and officials of heating firms here say they cannot be converted to use of coal. Residents who remove the oil burners are faced with the problem of getting coal-burning furnaces, now very scarce in Vancouver.

In addition it is estimated there are 9,000 ranges and stoves using oil burners. However, it would not be very difficult to convert these to coal.

Germans Driven Back 6 Miles, Forced to Fight in Open Country

WHY THE RUSSIANS ARE STORMING THROUGH THE GERMANS AT KHARKOV—These highly-trained Russian troops carry the now famous anti-tank rifles, responsible for the enemy's counter-attacks turning into a rout. Hundreds of shattered Nazi tanks strewn on the roads and fields around Kharkov bear witness to the efficiency of this rifle. Hitler's weapon, the tank, is being turned against him and the perfection of these anti-tank weapons is making that possible. Reports say the Nazis have been forced to abandon mass mechanized attacks, and now use tanks in groups of 10 or 15.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP) — The Red army's drive toward Kharkov was reported today to have overrun a key German stronghold in a smashing six-mile advance, which carried the fighting through Nazi defence lines into open country, where only enemy troops and pillboxes blocked the way.

Red Star said that after the advance in which the garrison of the Nazi stronghold was wiped out in a fierce 40-minute fight, the battle was carried for the most part into "open fields and populated places unprotected by any fortifications."

Reporting success of the sudden new surge in this sector, Red Star, mouthpiece of the Russian army, declared the strong point was one the Germans had sought to hold at any cost.

Red Star added that the Germans' heavy tank losses in the desperate fight for Kharkov had caused them to change their tactics, giving up mass mechanized counter-attacks and relying instead on charges by infantry battalions, or regiments supported by only 10 to 15 tanks.

(Other reports say the Nazis have lost 600 tanks in the Kharkov fighting.)

The gigantic battles of tanks against tanks which characterized the start of the fight, are continuing only in one sector, and there the issue has not yet been decided, the army publication reported.

Artillery, Planes, Tanks Clear Way

The Russians used artillery, planes and tanks in a concerted dawn battering of the strong point, with Kharkov defences, clearing the way for an infantry charge which took the position, Red Star said.

It reported the Germans had held the fortified village for three months, developing an intricate system of defence works, surrounding it with deadly minefields and clearing zones for point-blank fire.

The Russians also captured five surrounding villages, and repulsed reserve troops hurled forward in a German counter-attack, Red Star said.

Meanwhile the Russians reported fighting off German flanking assaults aimed toward Izum and Baryenkov. 80 miles southeast of Kharkov, and holding on grimly at the eastern tip of the Kerch Peninsula, barring the short cut to the Caucasus.

Important Town Retaken By Guerrillas

At the same time, the growing strength of organized Russian guerrillas behind the German lines was said to be dining an ever-louder challenge to the Nazi grip on once-conquered Soviet soil.

Pravda reported guerrillas had recaptured one important city of several thousand inhabitants deep in White Russia, driving out Germans who had held the community for four months and beating off a strong German force which attempted to re-occupy positions there in a dawn-to-dusk battle.

FROM KHARKOV—RED TANKS MAKE MOVING 'FORT'—Russian troops are shown dislodging Germans in the Kharkov area, according to Soviet caption on this telephoto. It shows how Red soldiers use wall of tanks as moving "fort" during advance, cluster atop them to rain bullets on lingering Nazi outposts.

The importance of the city—its name was not disclosed—was indicated by the fact it is the centre of 70 collective farms, each a community comparable in size to the average North American country village.

A Russian communiqué, issued during the day, dealing with the drive to recapture the Kharkov industrial centre, declared that "during the night of May 20-21 our troops continued offensive battles in the Kharkov direction."

It said "the Germans, disregarding enormous losses, have made counter-attacks, attempting to hold up the offensive of our troops," but added "these attempts of the enemy are being defeated."

"On the Kerch Peninsula (where the German high command claims final victory), battles continued in the eastern section," the communiqué said.

Tass declared the Germans had been forced to rush up fresh reserves. Fields and roads of the Ukraine are "littered with the wreckage of their machines," the news agency said.

Northward, the tank-supported German infantrymen made a vain attack on Russian lines in the Smolensk area, the Soviet Information Bureau said, and were driven back to their original positions with a loss of 400 killed.

On the Leningrad front Russian troops cut a road between two enemy centres of resistance and killed 600 Germans to repulse Nazi counter-attacks intended to restore the line, and Red army artillery and mortar fire accounted for 300 more on north-western sectors.

"In the Barents Sea," it was announced, "a Soviet warship sank three enemy transports with a total displacement of 26,000 tons."

(Sofia dispatches, cleared through censorship to Switzerland, indicate Bulgarians now regret their entry into the Axis last spring and speak of a peace by compromise.)

"Even the most fanatical followers of Germany," said a dispatch to the Neue Zuercher Zeitung, "doubt the Axis powers will be able to bring about a really decisive victory against the enemy coalition."

(A DNB dispatch from Sofia said 86 soldiers of the Sileven garrison in Bulgaria had been charged with operating a Communist cell and that the prosecution demanded the death penalty.)

Bombers to Roll Off Lines At Ford's Plant, 1 an Hour

First planes have come off the assembly line of this huge plant near Detroit.

A full half-mile stretches the Willow Run airplane factory, the picture above giving only an indication of its size.

DETROIT (AP) — The first of the big four-engined bombers which soon will be put into mass production based on automobile manufacturing methods has rolled off the new half-mile long assembly line of the 37-acre Willow Run plant, the Ford Motor Company announced today.

Edsel Ford, president, told correspondents on the National Association of Manufacturers "Production for Victory" tour that completion of the first bomber assembly marked a new phase in Ford's war manufacturing, which now includes approximately 70 different contracts.

(Rate of production at the huge plant was indicated by Mr. Ford when the plant was under construction as one plane every hour.)

Besides bombers, the Ford

Company is making tanks of modernized design, fire control instruments, combat vehicles, cartridges and shells, engines for land, sea and air forces, individual airplane parts and other weapons which, because of their tactical importance, must remain secret.

"The bomber program we are now beginning is equivalent to the whole motor car business," Charles E. Sorensen, vice-president, declared. "Our work on general war production will double the entire peacetime business of the Ford Motor Company and our employment will also be about doubled.

The bombing plane is known technically as the B-24E. It is a giant ship weighing 30 tons, powered by four Pratt and Whitney 1,250-horsepower engines with a cruising range of 3,000 miles at a speed of 300 miles an hour. It can carry four tons of bombs.

3 Raiders Get V.C.'s Name Federation To 'Develop' Asia

LONDON (CP) — The Victoria Cross, highest award for valor, was bestowed today on three men for the courage they displayed in the raid on St. Nazaire March 28 when the destroyer Campbeltown, loaded with high explosives, was rammed into the dock gates.

The three are Lt. Cmdr. Stephen Beattie, 34, now a prisoner of the Germans; Seaman William Savage and Cmdr. Robert E. D. Ryder.

No Notice Next Time

VANCOUVER (CP) — Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, head of the B.C. Police division of the Air Raid Precaution organization, said today the Pacific coast's next blackout will "in all probability" be held without previous warning to the public.

Reports to provincial civilian protection headquarters here from all parts of the blacked-out area showed Wednesday night test generally effective.

Nazis Say U.S. Troops Arrive at Gibraltar

NEW YORK (AP)—Axis and Axis-dominated radios today asserted United States troops had arrived at Gibraltar, although they differed somewhat on details. There was no confirmation of these reports, all of which were presented as emanating from Algiers, Spain, near Gibraltar.

Vichy said one transport carrying 5,000 troops followed an aircraft carrier and two cruisers into Gibraltar roadstead Wednesday night.

The German DNB agency said there were 5,000 soldiers escorted by three British destroyers, that they arrived Wednesday afternoon and had not debarked, so that it was not known whether they would stay.

The German Transocean news agency said there were 3,000 on

Victorian With Fliers in Far East

SOMEWHERE IN NORTH-ERN IRELAND (CP)—Members of a Canadian flying boat squadron which has just arrived in the Far East were "all out" for a hop half way round the world, eager to "get some action" against the Japanese in tropical skies.

Veterans of scores of monotonous reconnaissance flights and convoy patrols in European waters, the youthful airmen were the first Canadians to move overseas from Britain as a squadron and, even before the movement was completed, the squadron led by Wing-Comdr. John Plant began writing itself a name that will live in the air annals of the dominions.

Two of its members, Sqdn-Ldr. L. J. Birchall of Saint John, N.B., and Warrant Officer C. Onyet of Hunter Isle, Ont., helped thwart the Japanese air thrust at Ceylon in April in what was officially called "one of the greatest achievements of Canadian fliers of the present war."

The squadron flying personnel left from their base in northern transports escorted by three British destroyers, which still were at Gibraltar this morning.

Ireland. The ground crew went to the Far East by ship several weeks ago and the men, both air crew and ground crew, were anxious to "get cracking."

Nine provinces were represented aboard the transport, which carried the ground staff from a British port, where Air Commodore W. A. Curtis of Toronto bade them bon voyage.

British Columbians included L.A.C. E. N. Walker and A.C.R. J. Bring, Victoria, and Cpl. D. A. Reeve, L.A.C. L. S. Attwell; L.A.C. J. B. Mackenzie, L.A.C. H. G. Baker and L.A.C. D. C. Keele, Vancouver.

5 Planes Missing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Five Gunter Field training planes were reported missing today from training flights Wednesday night. They disappeared on a triangular flight from Montgomery to Crestview, Fla., to Mobile, Ala.

Gas Masks Soon

VANCOUVER (CP)—Civilian in B.C.'s "vulnerable" coastal area will soon be supplied with gas masks, according to A. T. Morrison, provincial superintendent of the St. John Ambulance.

Mr. Morrison, reporting to the civilian protection committee after an Ottawa conference with St. John Ambulance chiefs, said "it is definitely true that gas masks for civilians are coming along very soon."

Duke Says War 'Unnecessary'

LONDON (CP)—The pacifist Duke of Bedford, in his maiden speech in the House of Lords today, declared the war which Britain entered to uphold the Polish alliance was "the most disastrous and most unnecessary which irresponsible politicians ever landed this country in."

The Duke, whose activities for a negotiated peace have put him frequently in the spotlight, said the British people never would have consented to the Polish alliance if they had known the whole truth.

He contended it was a popular superstition that Britain was disarmed before the war.

"The truth is that when the rearmament race started we were slower at beginning," he said. In addition, he told the Lords if they had seen the children of their country starving as Hitler did, they might understand "why he is ruthless when protecting his country from starvation by reason of the blockade."

The Duke, who succeeded his father in August, 1940, took his seat in the House of Lords only last December but refused to take the traditional oath. He said he had been "boycotted" the House of Lords but took his seat in the hope of helping some friends detained under security regulations.

ASKS NO REPARATIONS

The Duke said that after the war the only sane policy would be for all nations to abandon "the ridiculous idea of reparations and punishment, let bygones be bygones, and co-operate to rebuild the shattered world."

"I hope to God that when this war is over some statesman will arise great and strong enough to insist that peace shall be made on those terms."

British Planes Hit Axis Destroyer

CAIRO (AP)—British planes scored bomb and probably torpedo hits on a destroyer and merchant vessel Tuesday night in the Mediterranean, R.A.F. headquarters announced today.

The ships were part of an enemy convoy attacked by both the R.A.F. and planes of the fleet air arm. Other bombs on the same night attacked objectives in Crete and Libya.

In Libya, the communiqué said, aerial operations were reduced because of bad weather.

One British plane was lost.

Enemy armored cars withdrew on being engaged by British forces in the southern sector of Libya, British Middle East headquarters reported today. The communiqué said patrol activity continued, but otherwise there was nothing to report.

Australia Speeds Up

To Draft 35,000 For Civil Corps

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS. Australia (CP)—Amid indications the Japanese are striving to conserve their bomber forces for a large-scale attack in the future, Australia moved today to draft an additional 35,000 men into the civil construction corps preparing this country as a base for a great Allied offensive.

The probability the Japanese are hoarding and building up their bomber power was raised by Wednesday's 53rd raid on Port Moresby, New Guinea. It was conducted exclusively by fighter planes. Their half-hour attack was reported to have done little damage, but they dropped small balloons in an apparent attempt to determine prevailing winds. (This would be of importance to parachutists and planes attempting to land.)

Meanwhile, Allied airmen renewed their assaults on Japanese advance bases, blasting Wednesday at both Kupang and Dili, capitals of the Netherlands-Portuguese islands of Timor.

Martinique Groups Join Free French

SOMEWHERE IN THE WEST INDIES (AP)—Hundreds of volunteers for the Free French forces have succeeded in escaping from Martinique and other French islands of the Antilles since the fall of France and now are fighting alongside men of the United Nations, a friend of Gen. Charles de Gaulle said in an interview today.

The remarkable feature of these flights, according to the spokesman, has been the resourcefulness and bravery of the men in eluding officials on Martinique, Guadeloupe and Marie Galante, where prison terms are provided for those who are caught.

Some of those who fled have arrived on moonless nights in borrowed schooners, some have been aboard the small sailing craft which ply the Caribbean, some have been stowaways, some smuggled in by a series of secret exchanges from one fishing vessel to another, and some have arrived with their bodies blistered by the tropical sun and hands calloused and bruised by long hours at the oars of small boats.

Washington Cow Sets All-time Record

SEATTLE (AP)—Carnation Ormsby Madcap Payne, a Holstein-Friesian cow, was nearly a whole dairy in herself last year.

Setting an all-time world record for milk production, the new champion produced 41,943.4 pounds of milk in one year, Carnation farm officials announced today. She gave a daily average of 115 pounds, or 55 quarts, and on one peak day gave 146.5 pounds, or approximately 70 quarts.

Her year's production equaled that of nine ordinary cows, as the United States average is 4,742 pounds per cow.

Man Tries Hold-up, Shot in Bank

MONTREAL (CP)—A lone bandit was seriously wounded in the Outremont branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada today when a clerk fired three shots at him as he was attempting to stage a hold-up.

Roger Lepine, the clerk, said he had fired on the man after the bandit had threatened the bank teller with a revolver. Lepine said he had been standing in a corner of the building when the bandit made his hold-up move.

"I don't know yet how I did it," he said, "but I acted faster than I had ever done in my life. I shot once, twice, three times at the bandit, who dropped on the floor. A few seconds later the police rushed in. The man was badly wounded."

Police did not release the name of the bandit immediately, but said he was believed to be a Montreal man. They described his condition as extremely critical.

Lepine said the man was the one who had entered the bank two days before and had drawn a revolver, but had left without taking any money and before police arrived.

'Hasn't a Chance'

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King Wednesday told Liguori Lacombe, Conservative, Laval-Two Mountains, Que., that the chances of Mr. Lacombe being a Quebec representative in the cabinet are "very slight indeed."

Mr. Lacombe had asked if Mr. King had completed his consideration of whether Quebec would have its "proper" representation in the cabinet.

Mr. King said Mr. Lacombe had asked the same question previously.

As the House laughed, Mr. King added that if Mr. Lacombe were concerned about his own chances of a cabinet post, they were very slight indeed.

Intelligence Officers For R.C.A.F. Units

OTTAWA (CP) — Enlargement of the intelligence staff of the R.C.A.F. is on the way to keep pace with enlargement of the home war establishment which has been in progress for some time.

In order to provide an intelligence officer for each home defence squadron a number of additional officers have been taken on and, after a short course of training, assigned to squadrons. The process is expected to continue for some time.

Hitherto, there have been intelligence officers attached to the headquarters of the western and eastern air commands, but the appointment of such officers for individual squadrons in Canada is a comparatively new development.

Unlike the fictional conception of intelligence work, the duties of these officers will be comparatively unromantic.

They conduct what amount to small libraries of information for the units to which they are attached. They keep the diaries of their squadrons. They meet all aircraft returning from operational flights, question the fliers about what they did and saw and make notes about anything unusual. That information eventually is sifted, tabulated and exchanged, and sent to the people who need it. They are also responsible for keeping and handling the maps and photographs used by their squadron.

The new intelligence officers will serve in Canada with home war establishment units, and the overseas set-up is not being changed.

Senate Tory Leader

OTTAWA.
By NORMAN MACLEOD
Able, likable, conscientious Hon. Charles Colquhoun Ballantyne — new Conservative leader in the Senate — has the distinction of being the only ranking figure in the current parliamentary drama who has had the chief milestones in his political career supplied by two world wars.

For it was in World War No. 1 that he broke his close association with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to take office in Sir Robert Borden's Union Government.

Now it is in World War No. 2 that, still adhering to his adopted political faith, he finds himself drafted to lead the Upper House Conservatives, and thus helping to mold the legislation of the nation to promote an all-out war effort.

His present job was not of Mr. Ballantyne's seeking. Instead, it sought him, so insistently as to brook no refusal. His Conservative colleagues recognized that his wide experience, his moderate and tolerant views, and his broad knowledge of sound administration, in the fields both of government and business, equipped him particularly for the task of leadership in a war emergency. It is a well-known fact in parliamentary circles, consequently, that few party caucuses have been marked by the unanimity of the one that prevailed upon him to accept his present post.

NOT SPECTACULAR

Ponderous of frame and somewhat slow of manner, Mr. Ballantyne could not accurately be described as a spectacular parliamentarian. But he is an impressive one. Somehow he conveys the idea that he is not concerned with chalking up debating points, or with argument for argument's sake, but that he is genuinely seeking to contribute to the utility and practicability of any discussion he enters. He is never a bitter partisan. In brief, in all his activities he personifies all of the more convincing arguments that can be marshaled for the existence of the Senate as a second Legislative Chamber.

By origin he is a son of the soil and comes from Dundas County in eastern Ontario. He early forsook agriculture, however, to take a business course in the Montreal Commercial College, and from that time his success in the business world was of the definitely spectacular variety. His abilities in organization and administration soon attracted the interest of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who appointed him to be chairman of the Montreal Harbor Commission. He occupied this post during the port's years of greatest expansion, and Montreal's present status as one of the greatest harbors of the continent is to no small extent a monument to his energy, ability and foresight.

JOINS BORDEN GOVERNMENT

The experience gained in port matters in Montreal made Mr. Ballantyne a logical choice for the portfolio of marine when, after his break with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the conscription issue, he joined the union government of Sir Robert Borden. It was during this eventful period that he became the father of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. Although these ships ultimately became a liability because of the unexpected ending of the war, their creation was a vital war policy and the speed and efficiency shown by Mr. Ballantyne in getting them into service was recognized as one of the great organizing feats of the period.

In the election of 1921 Mr. Ballantyne suffered defeat at the hands of Sir Herbert Marler in one of the greatest electoral battles in Montreal's history. He retired then from politics to business, but was recalled to public life by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in 1932 and made a senator, subsequently becoming seat-mate and first lieutenant of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

His qualities of moderation and respect for the views of others were strikingly illustrated that the close friendship between himself and Sir Wilfrid Laurier continued long after they separated politically on the conscription issue and, in fact, right up to the great Liberal chief's death.

land in 1911 to Quesnel, where he was honorary lay reader with the St. John the Divine Mission. From 1912 to 1914 he was a student at the Anglican Theological College at Vancouver.

During that time he was a student missionary at Burnaby with the Columbia Coast Mission, and assistant deacon under Rev. E. R. Bartlett at New Westminster. At the conclusion of his studies he returned to Prince George as priest in charge and remained there until 1927, when he organized and took charge of the new mission at Upper Fraser.

In 1932 he returned to Prince George by request, the post he now holds.

Sightseeing Buses Quit in U.S. June 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — All sightseeing bus services have been prohibited by the Office of Defence Transportation, effective June 1, and chartered bus services have been ordered to cut to such essential operations as transporting troops, war workers and schoolchildren.

The action, expected to save more than 100,000 pounds of crude rubber a year, is intended to save the tires on sightseeing vehicles now "so they will be available for operations essential to the war production program," O.D.T. Director Joseph B. F. Eastman said.

He called on "local and state police authorities and the general public" to assist in enforcement of the decree.

The order prescribes that any rubber-tired vehicle having a seating capacity of 10 or more may not be used to carry passengers "for the primary purpose of sightseeing" or for charter by any person or group except those specifically exempted.

OTTAWA (CP) — There is no likelihood of any easing of border restrictions between Canada and the United States in the immediate future.

Canada's shortage of American dollars with which to pay bills in the United States as they become due makes it imperative to continue to restrict Canadians from using up American dollars by traveling in the United States, an official source here said.

Washington is considering changes in its border regulations to make them less vexatious to Canadian visitors, but is in the position of not wishing to treat Canadians differently from other nationalities, he said. Any change so far considered would make no great difference.

An Historical Speech

ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING speeches of the war was delivered a few days ago before the Free World Association by Henry A. Wallace, Vice-president of the United States. The newspapers did not report it next day, as the press news organizations either carelessly passed it up or failed to grasp its significance.

"The march of freedom of the past 150 years," said Mr. Wallace, "has been a long drawn-out peoples' revolution. In this Great Revolution of the people there were the American revolution of 1775, the French revolution of 1792, the Latin-American revolutions of the Bolivian era, the German revolution of 1848, and the Russian revolution of 1918. Each spoke for the common man in terms of blood on the battlefield. Some went to excess, but the significant thing is that the people groped their way to the light. More of them learned to think and work together. The people are on the march toward even fuller freedom than the most fortunate peoples of the earth have hitherto enjoyed. No Nazi counter-revolution will stop it."

Nazism is thus placed in its true place as a counter-revolution, a manifestation of the age-old authoritarian idea striving vainly to hold back the upsurge of the common man toward liberty.

Mr. Wallace continued: "It is my belief that every freedom, every right, every privilege has its price, its corresponding duty without which it cannot be enjoyed. The four duties of the peoples' revolution, as I see them today, are these:

1. The duty to produce to the limit.
2. The duty to transport as rapidly as possible to the field of battle.
3. The duty to fight with all that is in us.
4. The duty to build a peace—just, charitable and enduring.

"The fourth duty is that which inspires the other three."

These words are signposts on the road to victory and to the peace which lies beyond victory and makes victory worthwhile.

"Those who write the peace," said Mr. Wallace, "must think of the whole world. There can be no privileged peoples. We ourselves in the United States are no more a master race than the Nazis. And we cannot perpetuate economic warfare without planting the seeds of military warfare. If we really believe that we are fighting for a peoples' peace, all the rest becomes easy."

These quotations can serve only to give a fragmentary idea of the spiritual content of the speech. It is already being compared to Lincoln's Gettysburg address, because in simple words Mr. Wallace restates the faith of those who have led the march down the years to liberty, and in that faith, points out our path onward and upward into the calm light of a just, charitable and enduring peace.

The speech is important because it was the first by any public man which has placed this war in historical perspective against the background of the centuries-old struggle for human liberty.

Also, it is important because it fills the need for a common man's creed for victory and peace. There has been a crying need for a simple, clear and honest restatement of the purposes and objectives of this war in words which the common man everywhere, in Britain, the Empire and Americas, in India and in China, in Russia and in the conquered lands of Europe can understand and make his own and be willing to die for, if need be. There has been need for a creed of the common man, a fiery cross to which he could rally, a standard to which the wise and virtuous might repair, leaving the rest in the hands of God.

Motor Car Dealers

THE AUTOMOBILE DISTRIBUTOR business is almost a 100 per cent war casualty. There have been 3,500 dealers across Canada, employing thousands of trained mechanics, salesmen, office staffs of women as well as men. When automobile production for civilian use was stopped by Ottawa and when the government services began buying direct from the manufacturers, the dealers and their staffs faced a crisis.

Tributes are now being paid to the dealers for the way in which they faced these difficult circumstances. Instead of turning their staffs loose, it is now found that from coast to coast they reduced gradually. Here in Victoria we know how the army, navy and air force were able to fill key mechanical posts with trained mechanics from the shops of our local automobile firms. Salesmen and office staffs have found their places in every branch of war service and industry.

With the new car sales business wiped out, their staffs depleted, their civilian business dwindling as gasoline rationing, and rubber shortage steadily removes more cars from the road, Canada's automobile dealers are carrying on a maintenance service essential for the public and private cars and trucks in use. Loaded with a normal peace-time overhead, on the present reduced scale of operations they have no prospects of profit above wages. Under the difficult circumstances, the country's automobile dealers carry on and deserve the tributes that are being paid them.

And Now Beef

CANADA IS BEGINNING TO EXPERIENCE a beef shortage. For the last year we have been counselled to go easy on pork because Britain had first call on bacon. However, there was no need to forego beef. Now the report from the east is that beef has all but disappeared from the shops there.

The reason is not that there is a shortage in beef supplies, but that beef in heavy volume is moving from Canada to the United States. Price control has maintained a ceiling in Canada, but Canadian cattle men have not been precluded from exporting to get the advantage of the higher prices in the United States market.

Canadian consuming interests have complained about this unrestricted export, but it is too much to expect that a government would move to curtail an opportunity that has at last come to the agriculturists to cash in on a favorable market. Besides, the export of cattle at higher prices is building up needed exchange credits, just as do exports of newsprint and gold.

All the Canadian consumer can do is to be thankful that he can still get some beef, instead of having to resort to horse meat as in England, and that there is a price ceiling on the beef that he can get.

'Scientific' Hitlerism

ALTHOUGH TECHNOCRACY has been banned in Canada, the parent organization in the United States is far from moribund. In fact, it has entered a phase of energetic campaigning, with new offices in various cities and large scale advertising. Its young men are appearing in larger numbers in trim, grey uniforms, with fleets of grey cars bearing the red Technocratic insignia.

Technocracy's objectives under wartime conditions in the United States are set out in a full-page advertisement paid for and inserted by the organization, in the San Francisco Chronicle. It calls for the complete and immediate confiscation of all the property, money and business and the conscription of the persons of all the inhabitants of the United States under the final authority of a Commander-in-Chief, not a president. This authority is to supersede all state and local governments, to collect all taxes, local and national, to operate all businesses, to command all persons, to suppress all public communication in foreign languages, to abolish all foreign language associations, to remove all present party politicians and business leaders from their functions. All this to be done at once and to remain in effect not longer than six months after the termination of the war.

It would seem from this, when it comes to totalitarianism, Hitler is something of an amateur as against the "scientific" boys of Technocracy. They would do all he has done in the way of political and economic control and then go on to make a complete job of it all by confiscating property, money and business and conscripting everybody. The "final authority" of a commander-in-chief, under whom all would be placed, is evidently that of Chief Technocrat Howard Scott. Then we would have attained the beehive or ant-hill organization of human society, each of us in his scientific cell, mere automatons.

It is the dictator's dream of the perfect state which present-day fuhrers in their unscientific inefficiency must envy. As such, it is scarcely likely to be tolerated by an American public which has committed itself to an all-out war effort against a less thorough totalitarianism. What Technocracy in the United States is asking for is a ban such as has been placed on it by Canada.

If you want to keep the home fires burning, get your coal now for next winter.

Someone, noting the fancy price Ribbentrop has just paid for a Hungarian racing stable, comes forward to suggest that the stable must be made up entirely of steak horses.

Revival of canoeing is said to be probable as a result of tire and gasoline rationing. That would restore to the Gorge something of its lost popularity. In the pre-automobile age, boating on the Gorge was the thing to do on week-ends and holidays. It was the ambition of the young blades of those days to have their private canoes, just as the youths of more recent years have had their motor "bugs" or coupes. Victoria is favored in having a protected, river-like arm of the sea running for some six miles through a part of the city and suburbs. If canoeing is coming back, there are few canoe routes more unique than the Gorge.

THE SPLIT ON CONSCRIPTION

From Toronto Star

Parliamentary opinion on the conscription issue appears at present to be split six ways.

Some members want conscription for overseas service now. This will probably be the Conservative policy.

Some want conscription for overseas service conditional upon its being accompanied by "conscription of wealth"—the C.C.F. policy.

Some are absolutely against conscription for overseas service, notably the majority of the French-Canadian members.

Some want conscription for overseas service when and if necessary, but see no present need for it. Judging from what has been said from time to time, this is the official government view.

Some think that conscription for overseas service, if it proves necessary, should be inaugurated by order-in-council.

Some think that conscription for overseas service, if it proves necessary, should be inaugurated by act of parliament.

Virgil, My Guide

THROUGH THE SEASONS

"WHEN CLEAR SPRINGTIME is now come," writes Virgil in the "Georgics," "then sweet is sleep, and thick are the shadows on the hills."

Tam vere sereno . . .
tum somni dulces densaque in montibus umbræ.

I had followed the seasons round the year with Virgil and thought that of all his observations this was one of the most true and at the same time poetic. For spring in the country does come in such a way that one can see the change in the shadows on the hills; see, indeed, a difference in light and shade everywhere. It does not come as in the town, where there is always a day suddenly when the misty, dust-filled air of the city is lit for a moment with gold and the flower-sellers carry the first pale primroses on their trays. No sudden day of spring lights up the country. Those white snowdrops, white lambs, and yellow celandines do not come all together, with warm winds and a general feeling of release; rather they come as stars in winter, seen on days when the wind is cold and harsh. But Virgil is right; there come the days when shadows thicken on the hills, when the dark shoulder of mountain that lay frozen under the sky lies open now to the shifting colors cast by the clouds. Not only on the flanks of the hills, but everywhere over the landscape there are shadows, a mist of brown and purple over the woods, an incorporeal clothing that seems to have been created out of the air.

MANY OTHER passages in the Georgics, in their general sense, I confirmed in my daily life. I had started rereading for pleasure, and found amusement in noting where the poet's lines agreed with what I saw of the country life around me. Of his forestry maxims I had little chance to judge, though on a warm, seaward-looking slope I spent many a minute idly regretting the absence of his olive and his vine, for "The vine loves hills bare to the sun's warm glow." But ours is a northerly land, I thought: compared to Virgil's homeland a very distant, cold, grey group of islands, and I went on to the bees; for bees one can keep even here, and I had listened to many stories of bees in the neighborhood, and hives of the past, and hives of more recent days, with in my mind a picture of his "host, just freed from the hive, floating towards the starry sky through the clear summer air."

The farmers' winter, I found, did not correspond with Virgil's; for he said without qualification that winter was "the farmer's lazy time," and that "in cold weather farmers chiefly enjoy their gains and feast together in merry companies." In ancient Italy perhaps; not so in my part of the country today. Winter means incessant work, and the farmers' discontent, increased by shortage of labor, and the endless filling in of government forms, did not tend to merry feasting.

IN VIRGIL on soil and plowing, and on the signs of the weather, I found a steady source of interest. How the soil was affected by snow and frost; how this land or that should be plowed, these things one could see in practice. I would not use the Georgics as a handbook to agriculture, but that musical voice from the past can crystallize and give form to each incident. Such is a function of poetry, and for the townsman or amateur in the farming community it sheds a harmonizing light upon the details of a round in which he takes no necessary, active part.

For signs of the weather in the skies Virgil gives guidance that endures; never, he says, "never cometh a storm unheralded." And soon, indeed, one learns in the country how to expect the wind or rain. Often I have heard the time when the rain would begin predicted rightly to within a few hours; never did I know the signs of the setting sun to be misinterpreted. I was reminded of Virgil's "fiery" sun that betokens east wind one winter afternoon when the chain of snow-covered mountains that lay before me was lit by a rosy light, till the sun slid down behind the sea in the west and hills and sky together were suddenly grey and cold. Next morning the wind blew hard from the east.

OVER THE HILLS in September hung the yellow harvest-moon as the wagons came slowly home from the fields. Then when the last of the corn is brought in is the time in the country when one can almost feel the pause in the year, the moment of fulfillment before the rhythm of the seasons leads the countryside on once again into autumn. This rhythm, slow and powerful, seems to underlie all that Virgil writes of the country; he has the sense of the recurring life and death of the year. All this is comprehended in the great mind which, writes he only such an easy, delightful line as "let my delight be the country and the running streams in the valleys," is seen as a mind poised, that sees the whole in every part. His, too, is the voice of humanity, speaking not of nature only. Behind the music of the words breathes that universal pity, that sense of things tender and tragic, which has rightly led people to regard his mind as a bridge reaching from the ancient to the modern world.

Fine motto in war time—open your eyes and shut your mouth.

Parallel Thoughts

The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.—Ecclesiastes 4:5.
Youth keeps persons in favor with themselves, who are out of favor with all others.—Shakespeare.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I'm pleased to see Doris entertaining boys from the Army and Navy together, and I know you two are going to become great friends."

MYRON TAYLOR'S TRIBUTE TO POPE

The following tribute is paid to Pope Pius XII by Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's representative at the Vatican and a non-Catholic:

"There remain but few reservoirs of peace. Among them there is one toward which the eyes of all are turned with reverence and confidence and hope—the majestic figure of the Holy Father in the Vatican. In him we can well have a supreme confidence founded solidly not only on his Holy Office but also on his embracing spirituality, his vision and his very great talent. Within the historic walls of the Vatican one finds as in no other place among the war-torn nations an atmosphere of tranquility, of thoughtful analysis, of deliberate judgment and of courageous and unchanging resolve.

"There is a timelessness about the Vatican which impels one to believe that in the life of the spirit, human interests cannot always be measured in terms of a generation or of a life or of a century. Thus the solution of the principal difficulties and trials which from time to time afflict the children of God must always be brought into accord with the great fundamentals, and never be the subject of temporary compromise. In the world of the spirit, no weakening or compromise and no surrender of Christian principle will be witnessed. The vicar of those basic tenets on which Christianity rests, and which have survived the blasts of intrigue and the wars of many generations, holds firm the golden cord that reaches from our world of today back to the very Garden of Gethsemane."

I.O.D.E. Presents Plaque to Ss. Fort Camosun

Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps stands by plaque with captain of ship.

A WEST COAST CANADIAN PORT—Fort Camosun, a wartime freighter has been presented with a commemorative plaque from Camosun Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The plaque, fashioned of brass on an oak shield, bears the following inscription: "Presented by Camosun Chapter, I.O.D.E., to Ss. Fort Camosun. Camosun is an Indian word meaning 'Sheltered Harbour,' being the original name of Victoria. Wishing all who travel and the precious cargoes carried in this ship safe return to a 'Camosun,' Feb.

12, 1942." The plaque is topped by a replica of the I.O.D.E. badge. In unveiling the plaque, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, regent of the chapter, touched briefly upon the history of Fort Camosun, and conveyed greetings and good wishes from the chapter to its namesake in all her journeyings.

Mr. D. R. Anderson, in welcoming the visitors, recalled that the original Fort Camosun was projected 100 years ago.

The captain of the ship, on behalf of himself and his crew, thanked the chapter, expressing the hope that "it will at all times bring good luck to the ship, and a safe return to 'Camosun'."

Mrs. Phipps also presented a personal souvenir of the occasion to the captain of the ship in the form of a miniature Thunderbird totem pole, carved by Saanich Indians, together with a framed story of the legend of the thunderbird. Mrs. Geo. Miles, on behalf of the chapter, presented a dartboard to the crew.

Other officers of the chapter presented included: Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, Mrs. J. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. T. Harper, Mrs. R. V. Campbell, Mrs. J. Wilkinson and Mrs. A. Mainprize.

Maj. Beaton

Y.M.C.A. Wants To Help Win War

Paying his annual visit to Victoria in his official capacity as senior secretary for war services of the Canadian Y.M.C.A., Maj. J. W. Beaton told a luncheon meeting at Spencer's dining-room Wednesday of the work being done by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. for the boys in uniform, at home and abroad.

The luncheon was arranged by the war services branch of the local Y.M.C.A. and was attended by 50 officers and friends of the Victoria organization.

Maj. Beaton said the Y.M.C.A. in entertaining and feeding the troops was doing its part to win the war, helping to preserve free institutions and enriching the lives of the men in the services.

"We want to do all we can," he said, "and for that reason all our equipment is at the disposal of our servicemen. We think it is the duty of our organization to so organize to help."

He said that when young men left home to join up they left everything dear behind them, their wives, sweethearts, parents and brothers and sisters.

"That is impoverishment of life," Maj. Beaton said. "We are doing our best to enrich the lives of these boys, with all the facilities we can offer."

PRAISES WOMEN

He praised the work being done by the Women's Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A., both in Canada and Great Britain. More work was being done by the women than ever before he stated.

"In Ottawa," Maj. Beaton said, "there is a great deal of confusion in respect to the situation on the Pacific coast. I am here to learn of the tremendous situation you face. Victoria has always been an important military base, it is super today. The demands upon the auxiliary services will become much greater."

He said no greater tribute could be paid to the auxiliary services than that by Gen. McNaughton, who told him it was at times embarrassing to see the wonderful service done by the Canadian service organizations as compared to those in the British army.

"The Y.M.C.A. was fortunate in having 80 permanent buildings in Canada," Maj. Beaton remarked, "and was able to start work immediately war was declared. To date 6,000,000 services have been given to servicemen in these buildings."

ARMY WORK LARGE

He said work in the army camps was still one of the biggest "Y" projects, with special emphasis on isolated units and outposts, which would otherwise have no recreational facilities.

He said the development of work with the navy was sudden but of a major character.

"However," the speaker said,

"the largest opportunity for the 'Y' on this side of the Atlantic was its work with the air force. We operate in 103 different air stations and handle more airmen than soldiers."

He said the Y.M.C.A. provided auxiliary services for the R.A.F. when Britain transferred a large group to Canada for training and operational work.

In Britain, he said, there were 70 "Y" supervisors with the Canadian Army, for which the Y.M.C.A. had entire responsibility for the athletic program.

Maj. Beaton was introduced by E. G. Rowbottom, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry in the provincial government.

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. made merry in the auditorium Tuesday evening. A variety program and community singing was enjoyed, followed by refreshments. Games and fortune telling were also run in charge of members.

Next Tuesday will be the annual general meeting and election of officers.

Sent to U.S.

OTTAWA (CP) — Dispatch of Canadian troops to the United States for escort duty in connection with the handling of prisoners of war was the subject of a question in the House of Commons.

Hon. Grote Stirling, Conservative, Yale, B.C., read an order-in-council passed last Friday under authority of the War Measures Act authorizing the sending of a Canadian detachment for duty in the United States, and observed the men involved included some called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act.

He asked if it were to be the general policy to send such men overseas under authority of the War Measures Act.

Defence Minister Ralston said the detachments concerned were on escort duty in connection with handling prisoners of war.

So far as future use of N.R.M.A. recruits outside of Canada was concerned, he said, the government's intention would be indicated as circumstances arose.

Victoria Lodges In Ritual Work At Convention

Candidates of Victoria Purple Star Lodge and of Britannia Lodge, both of Victoria, were initiated at Wednesday evening's session of the Grand Lodge of the Ladies' Benevolent Orange Association at the Empress Hotel. The ritual work was in charge of the local combined L.O.B.A. degree staff under the direction of Mrs. E. Hume as W.M., assisted by Mrs. V. Keatley, W.M., of Victoria Purple Star, and Mrs. I. Leask, W.M., of Britannia Lodge, and their respective officers.

The Victoria officers made a striking picture in floor-length gowns of white with the addition of colorful regalia pertaining to the degree. The floor work, emblematic of the order, together with the initiatory ceremony, was ably performed and all officers taking part were highly commended for their efficiency and achievements by their provincial leaders.

Mrs. Bert Noel acted as soloist and accompanist, assisted by Mrs. E. Doane, P.G.M. of B.C. Presentations were made to Mrs. I. Burt, P.G.M., and Mrs. B. Noel for valuable services.

At the afternoon session greetings from Mayor McGavin were extended by Alderman A. Willis. A delegation from the Loyal Orange Lodge, headed by the grand master, Mr. O. W. Wakelin (Vancouver), and Rev. J. Scott (Chilliwack) the deputy grand master, was welcomed and a delegation of the ladies' association paid a return visit to the men's lodge. Reports of the officers were read and discussed.

The business sessions continued today, and tonight the L.O.B.A. and the Loyal Orange Association will hold a joint banquet in closing, followed by a dance to which men of the three services have been invited.

Winnipeg Writer Wins Press Award

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lillian Gibbons of the Winnipeg Tribune editorial staff, Wednesday night was named winner of the 1942 Canadian Women's Press Club memorial award for journalism in the Dominion.

Miriam Green Ellis of Winnipeg, chairman of the award committee, announced that Miss Gibbons' winning entry was an interview with Paul Robeson, "Robeson Sure Soviet Will Fight to Last," published in the Tribune, Nov. 3, 1941.

Entries receiving honorable mention were:

Allison Taylor Hardy of Ottawa for an interview in the Ottawa Citizen; Alexandrine Gibb of Toronto for a Toronto Star story; Florence Randal Livesay of Clarkson, Ont., for an interview in the Vancouver Province; and Bellas Cousineau-Kerr of Montreal for one published in Paysana Magazine.

Miss Gibbons will receive the award, $25, and a gold medal at the triennial meeting of the C.W.P.C. to be held in Niagara Falls, Ont., June 22-26.

MISS NANETTE MORLEY

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Morley, 1743 Pembroke Street, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Helen Nanette, to Mr. D. W. Painton, R.C.N., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Painton, Eston, Sask. The wedding will take place May 23.

The Social CALENDAR

Mr. Chas. Woodward has arrived from Vancouver, where he is in his first year at the University of British Columbia, and is spending the holiday with his parents, Hon. W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward, at Government House.

Miss Ruth Humphrey, Richardson Street, left Wednesday afternoon for New Brunswick, where she will spend the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lougheed of Calgary have come to Victoria to spend a couple of months here, and are staying at the Small Charming Inn, Oak Bay.

Miss Marianne Wingate arrived yesterday from Winnipeg to visit her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Wingate, Niagara Street, and has as her guest Miss Ruby White, who accompanied her from Winnipeg.

Mrs. Fred Morrow, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Sub-Lieut. and Mrs. John A. Band, St. Charles Street, for some months, will leave for her home in Toronto at the end of the week.

Mr. E. P. Alley of Toronto, assistant general manager of the Bank of Commerce, accompanied by Mrs. Alley, arrived in Vancouver Wednesday from the east and will come over to Victoria at the weekend.

Miss Eleanor Hutchison of Los Angeles, who has been spending a month in Victoria with her father, Mr. R. Hutchison, Ellice Street, left today on her return to California.

Mrs. J. C. Main and Miss Southern of southern California, who have been spending the last week in Victoria, left yesterday for Banff where they will spend a few weeks before returning to Victoria to resume their visit before returning to the south.

At a quiet ceremony at Christ Church Cathedral Wednesday afternoon, Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, christened the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hethy, Mount Joy Avenue. The baby received the names Richard Tristram, and godparents were Major and Mrs. George Paulin and Mr. Lloyd Craig, Ottawa. After the service relatives and a few intimate friends were entertained at tea at the home of the baby's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hethy, King George Terrace.

Mrs. W. F. Bridge was hostess at an enjoyable silver tea at her home, 221 Robertson Street, yesterday afternoon in aid of the Victoria Women's Institute. The rooms were prettily decorated with yellow and pink spring flowers, the color scheme being carried out on the tea table where a lace cloth and green candles were used. Mrs. L. Bridge, Mrs. W. Sorenson, Mrs. D. Porter and Mrs. M. Laxton assisted the hostess. Mrs. J. L. P. Edwards was a "lady with a 1,000 pockets" and Mrs. F. Frampton read teasps. Miss D. Jolley was the winner of the special prize.

Mrs. R. H. W. Clowes and Miss Barbara Clowes, of Robertson Street, Victoria, were guests at the christening in Vancouver last Sunday of the granddaughter of Mrs. Clowes, Patricia Anne, baby daughter of Sgt. R. H. W. Clowes, R.C.A.F., and Mrs.

Weddings

TREMBLAY-CARPENTIER

St. Francis Catholic Church, Mill Bay, was the setting for the pretty wedding Saturday morning, of Laura, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Carpentier of Shawnigan Lake, to Mr. Leo Tremblay, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tremblay, Victoria. Father LaClair officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white sheer embroidered with flowers and beads, and a fingertip veil, held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. Pink roses, anthurums and white stocks formed her bouquet. Her sister, Miss Ora Carpentier, was bridesmaid in a gown of powder blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and fern. Mr. Robert Tremblay was his brother's best man.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and small bouquets with white satin bows marked the guest seats.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Shawnigan Lake. Mrs. Carpentier in a navy blue and dusty rose sheer ensemble was assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's mother in a dark brown tailored suit. In the evening about 70 guests assembled and dancing and music was enjoyed. The three-tier cake was decorated with roses and centred the prettily-appointed refreshment table. Many beautiful gifts evidenced the popularity of the young couple. After a brief honeymoon on the mainland they will reside in Victoria.

Girls in Air Force Healthier Than Ever

By MARGARET ECKER

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Canada doesn't have to worry about her baby daughter in the Royal Canadian Air Force (women's division) because her sergeant-backed by a whole corps of officers—is being a mother to little A.W.2 Susie Jones.

A medical census of the women in air force uniform showed today they were all healthier, in most cases, than ever before, that they're getting better medical and dental care, eating better food and getting more regular rest than they did when they were white-collar girls.

Flight Officer J. F. Davey, senior medical officer for the women's division, said that though the girls were posted to stations where life isn't all a bed of roses, in the middle of winter, there had been next to no sickness.

This was due, partly, to the rigid medical examination every recruit undergoes.

Dr. Davey, formerly women's medical adviser at the University of Toronto, said "we have had to reject 16 per cent of the volunteers."

Eye defects were the chief reason for rejection, with heart and blood abnormalities, foot trouble and nervous upsets next in order.

The ways and means committee of Victoria Boys' Band will hold a rummage sale Saturday. Please leave parcels at 509 Johnson Street Friday between 2.30 and 3.30.

Music Teachers Review Busy Year

Miss Ethel James, president of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Music Teachers' Association, was re-elected by acclamation for a third term at the annual meeting in the Y.W.C.A. Building, Wednesday morning.

Other officers for the ensuing year are: Honorary president, Dr. J. E. Watson; vice-president, Mrs. Marion MacGovern; recording secretary, Miss Noel Smith; corresponding secretary, Miss Florence Phillimore; treasurer, Mr. Eric Edwards. On the executive are: Mr. Reginald Cox, Miss Marion Roberts, Miss Una Calvert and Miss Gwendoline Harper.

Miss James, in reviewing the association's activities for the last year, mentioned the collaboration of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association on two occasions. The outstanding event of the year was the biennial convention of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations held at the Empress Hotel in July, bringing many prominent musicians to this coast.

Miss James thanked the various working committees for their co-operation and help in their work and other ways. She concluded her report with the hope that "when this war is over we, as teachers of music, will have played some part, however small, for music is more necessary now than ever before."

The secretary, Miss Noel Smith, reported on business conducted during the year. The branch has shown keen interest in war work, the sum of $88.45 having been raised for the Red Cross. Mr. Edwards, the treasurer, revealed a satisfactory financial condition.

In the courtesy resolution: a special vote of thanks was passed to Fletcher Bros. and the press. Mrs. Gladys Hick moved the vote of thanks to the retiring officers.

Miss James announced the last in the present series of pupils' recitals will be held June 12 at the Truth Centre.

Delegates appointed to the B.C. Provincial Council were the president and Mr. Cox, who will

P.T.A. Activities

Many parents attended the Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the auditorium of the school Tuesday. W. H. Muncy, school principal, spoke on "Aims of Education in the Elementary School." Physical and mental fitness were being striven for, he said. Special mention was made regarding promotions and the desirability of obtaining mastery in essential fundamentals. Mrs. G. W. Pottenger, Mrs. C. Wright and Mrs. C. Peters were named a committee on nominations. The meeting voted $27 for sports equipment. Miss Freda Natrass gave piano-forte selections and Mrs. N. Hawes readings. The hospitality committee served refreshments.

Helped in A.R.P. Test

During the two-hour Saanich A.R.P. test Monday night, volunteer workers of the Brentwood Institute Evacuee Centre were at their posts carrying out their various tasks with praiseworthy efficiency. The hall was effectively blacked out, and when lighting facilities and the water mains were declared out of action work in the centre continued as prearranged. All evacuees were registered upon entering, and checked out on leaving the centre. After the test coffee and refreshments were served to A.R.P. wardens.

The Wilkinson Road Ladies' Aid met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. A. J. Rainor, Loenholme Road. Routine business was discussed and it was decided to hold an outdoor tea on Tuesday afternoon, June 9, at the home of Mrs. Ransome, Wilkinson Road. One new member, Mrs. Duke, was welcomed and tea was served by the hostess. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Jones, Carey Road. Mrs. Garner, visiting convener, reported 60 visits to various Saanich homes and the hospitals.

St. Joseph's Class Graduates

Thirty-nine graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, with the dignity and gravity commensurate with their entrance into the nursing profession in this time of world crisis, received their diplomas from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at the Royal Victoria Theatre Wednesday evening, marking the 41st annual commencement exercises of the nursing school.

Seated on the stage and behind them, undergraduates of the first and second years, the nurses made an inspiring sight in their snow-white uniforms and caps, each wearing a corsage of red roses and lily of the valley, the hospital colors. Banked on either side of the tiers of seats and in front of the footlights were colorful masses of flowers sent to the graduates. In the background was a huge replica of the hospital badge, the cross being in gold lights with a silver shield, flanked on either side with draped Union Jacks.

HIS HONOR PRESENT

The ceremony opened with the arrival of His Honor, accompanied by Mrs. Woodward and Major L. Bullock-Webster and Miss Ruth Maclean. His Honor's party was escorted to a box and he took his place on the stage with Bishop J. Cody, Rev. Mother Mary Mildred, provincial superior; Sister Superior Mary Kathleen, Mr. Pascal Walker, deputy provincial secretary, who acted as chairman, and Mrs. Walker, Dr. George Hall and Dr. Gerald F. Aylward of St. Joseph's Hospital medical advisory board, and Mrs. Hall.

The complete list of graduates follows: Laura Louise Anderson, Ruth Jane Baillie, Margaret Ellen Bodaly, Margaret A. Campbell, Jean Mary Ciceri, Cecilia Marie Clappier, Katherine Margaret Collyer, Kathleen N. Comerford, Eileen M. Curell, Mary Emily Dean, Dorothy Elizabeth Egger, Agnes Forsberg, Kathleen Mary Fortune, Kathleen Frances Gahan, Janet Raeburn Grieve, Goldie Rae Hannah, Clare Olive Harrington, Mildred M. PRAISES NURSING SCHOOL

The graduates entered the stage in fours, bowed to His Honor and Bishop Cody and to the audience and took their places. Sister Mary Gregory, superintendent of nurses, conducted them. Mr. Walker spoke briefly, noting the tremendous improvements that had been made in the nursing profession in the last few years, adding that there were still higher standards to be attained. He commended St. Joseph's nursing school, none in B.C. having a higher standing.

Vocal solos were given by John Bray, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Oliver, and by Sgt. William Inglis, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle. Dr. Aylward introduced the graduates who received their diplomas from His Honor, and their badges were pinned on by Rev. Mother Provincial. Four little flower girls handed the diplomas on platters to His Honor. They were Barbara Ann Rose, Maureen Hanley, Eloise Elizabeth Amey and Virginia Bull.

Miss Lavonne Purves, president of the student association, gave an inspiring speech on the school motto, "Non Nobis Solum," "Not For Ourselves Alone," in which she outlined the ideals embodied in the motto.

AWARDS

The bursary presented by St. Joseph's Ladies' Auxiliary for the highest average in provincial examinations in British Columbia was won by Miss Kerstin J. Nelson, the medal for the faithful observance of the school motto, presented by Mr. Pascal Walker, was equally merited by Misses Ruth Baillie, Clare Harrington, Mildred Higgins, Agnes Leahy, Lavonne Purves, Leverage Steele and drawn by Miss Agnes Leahy. The Mrs. Angus Campbell bursary for most efficient nursing practice in second year was equally merited by Misses Ruth Baillie, Mary Dean, Goldie Hannah, Lavonne Purves, Leverage Steele, Mary Orton, Mary Thompson, Margaret Sammet and Lorna Stevens and drawn by Miss Goldie Hannah. Mrs. George Hall making the presentation.

The prize for the student showing qualities of leadership, presented by Mrs. J. H. Russell, on behalf of the Victoria Chapter of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, was merited by Miss Lavonne Purves, and the bursary for the highest average in examinations in the three-year course, presented by Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, for the Ladies' Auxiliary, won by Miss Katherine Collyer. Other students meriting honor mention were: Margaret A. Campbell, Gertrude Rigby and Agnes Forsberg.

The prizes for examination in communicable disease nursing, presented by Dr. Hall, on behalf of Dr. Arthur G. Price, were won by Dorothy Gordon, Kathleen Fortune, Sister Miriam Claire, and Marjorie Macbean. The prize for the highest average in examinations for first and second years, presented by Mrs. Hall, on behalf of her husband, won by Marjorie E. Macbean. Other students meriting honor mention were Ruth Alexander, Frances Morris, Dorothy Gordon, Eileen Randall and Muriel Maxwell.

The prize for the highest marks in examination in pediatrics, presented by the Junior Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital was won by Miss Marjorie Macbean.

Dr. Hall congratulated the graduates and urged them to follow the example of Florence Nightingale, to answer the call to service in the armed forces, noting the great credit that overseas Victoria nurses had already gained in the South African Nursing Corps.

The valedictory was given by Miss Gertrude Rigby, followed by the mass recitation of the Florence Nightingale pledge and the singing of the school song, "Loyal and True."

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor challenged the graduates to "stand up to the dark days ahead" when they would be asked to make "terrible sacrifices." He urged them to forego matrimony until the crisis was passed and to cling to their faith in religion and their trust in the traditions of the British Empire.

The history of the founding of the convent and hospital was reviewed by Bishop Cody who recalled the arrival in Victoria of the four pioneer sisters of St. Ann in June, 1858. There had been 370 graduates of the hospital since then, he pointed out, which was "no mean record." He emphasized that in time of war the nursing profession was more vitally necessary than in peace time and that an important duty was the keeping up of morale as well as helping the injured. The bishop concluded his address by pointing out the three main qualities a nurse should guide her life by: Idealism, which involved patriotism; character and sacrifice, and advised the graduates to cherish reverence, looking to God for their strength.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for parents of the graduating class at the Nurses' Residence.

HOROSCOPE

MAY 22

Benefic aspects are noted for today. There may be expansion and important changes in the business world. Persons seeking promotions at this time should be successful.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of an eventful year. Children born on this day may be talented and persevering.

The Flora Cogswell group of the Emmanuel Baptist Church met recently at 298 Moss Street, the home of the president, Mrs. A. H. Marston. Mrs. McKay led the devotional period. Mrs. Swainson gave an interesting talk on temperance work. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Parfitt, 1312 Vining Street.

Explore Vancouver Island May 24th Week-end

By E. L. FORBES

Live normally and spend wisely. Over and over again in the serious months that have passed our leaders have urged us to do these two things. I can think of no better way to start our 1942 Vacation Guide than by repeating the same words—live normally and spend wisely.

One of the most important things in normal living is good health. To safeguard health some relaxation is necessary. This year the strain of increased production and longer hours in business, on farms and in war industries makes this doubly important. Consider your week-end holidays and your annual vacation as a "civilian furlough" that will bring you back to work doubly efficient. A furlough that will prepare you mentally and physically for the even bigger tasks Canada will be asking of you the rest of this year and next.

Spend wisely. I'd like to suggest that in the matter of holidays, these words mean—stay on Vancouver Island. You will be conserving on essential war materials, and at the same time becoming familiar with many beautiful new holiday spots. From Victoria to Forbes Landing it is only a little over 186 miles and in that distance you will find restful, comfortable cabins, resorts, hotels, all run with an eye to giving you a bang-up vacation you will long remember. In keeping with the times all Vancouver Island holiday places offer a vacation with moderate housing and food costs, entertainment that is not too expensive and where it is not necessary to "dress up" for too many occasions.

I have started a brand new Vancouver Island notebook this year. Brand new tips for you, too. Here are a few of them:

This May 24 week-end leave the family car at home. You can travel by bus or train to any holiday spot on Vancouver Island. Ever see the triple rainbows arched across Elk Falls? There never was a better time than now. Stay at FORBES LODGE at Forbes Landing. You'll get a bit of real fishing in as well.

If it's the big fellows you're after, stop a day or two at THE WILLOWS HOTEL in Campbell River. You'll get 'em there.

Warm sun, blue skies, a peaceful countryside! That's Comox Peninsula! For comfortable quarters in a friendly atmosphere try THE ELK HOTEL. It's tops!

Take the family—Parksville! Fun for all there. Safe sand beach for children. Warm sea bathing for grown-ups. Shady trees and grassy slopes. Modern stores in the village. Comfortable cottage accommodation at WING'S AUTO CAMP. Also EDGEWATER PARK TOURIST CAMP. Here's another—HARRISON'S BEACH CAMP. A grand summer inn, too. It's THE ISLAND HOTEL.

A real find! RATHREVOR BEACH. Just south of Parksville. The finest beach of fine silver sand I've ever seen. Stretches for miles. Campsites, picnic grounds, open air fireplaces. Don't take my word for it—see it for yourself!

An old favorite—going strong! WALL BEACH CAMP. Electric light in every cottage now. Many new improvements. Wall Beach is perfectly safe for children. Cottages built in a grove of cedar trees.

Qualicum! Everyone in Victoria should visit this vacation spot at least once in a season. This week-end might be the right time—there's a grand golf tournament scheduled for the three days. "Plenty of golf and prizes" is the way it's advertised.

Accommodation at Qualicum is always the best. AT QUALICUM BEACH HOTEL, George Walker, the general manager, says: "You need a vacation"—and right away tries to give you the best ever. SUNSET INN comes up this season with many fine improvements. New manager, too—"Pop" Edwards, well known in Victoria and Vancouver. THE LOG CABIN INN, down on the beach, is a real favorite and the QUALICUM BEACH BUNGALOW COURT is better than ever. As for auto camps, GRANDVIEW with its string of cabins and cottages is popular with everyone.

Where is Yellow Point? If you don't know you should find out right away. It's got everything. Including TILlicum SEASIDE.

COTTAGE CAMP. Comfortable cabins and cottages in a woodland acreage right by the sea. LAGUNA VISTA is another delightful resort. Pretty little cottages, a central dining room, natural woodland, carpets of wild flowers. What more can we say? Oh yes—Yellow Point is only a few miles from Ladysmith.

Talking of Ladysmith—you might stop at THE WIGWAM for a light lunch or to give the kiddies a feed of good ice cream. It's a favorite! For an overnight there is THE TRAVELLER'S HOTEL. Clean, comfortable rooms, good wholesome food!

Right on the highway—just south of Ladysmith—SANDY BEACH AUTO CAMP. Tucked in a pleasant little curve of the shoreline. Beautiful view. Clean, comfortable cabins. Reasonable, too.

Here's another good tip—SEAVIEW AUTO COURT at Saltar. Just north of Chemainus. Grand spot. Good cottages, fine beach. Fishing too, if you like it. Worth considering.

Just over the Malahat you'll find Mill Bay. At Mill Bay there is KILMALU—where you are sure to find rest and peace in beautiful surroundings. SUMMERVILLE, a delightful home where house guests find a real holiday. Mill Bay has a good auto camp, ROSEBANK. In a wooded acreage extending right to the beach. Clean comfortable cabins. You'd like to get away from the sea? Then go to Shawnigan Lake. High in the hills, just beyond the Malahat. Be sure and stay at SHAWNIGAN BEACH HOTEL. Beautifully situated with every modern appointment.

Drive six miles out the Saanich highway and you'll reach ROYAL OAK INN. For lunch, afternoon tea or dinner you'll find no more interesting spot these delightful May days. English countryside style—even to a real thatched roof.

We mustn't forget to tell you that MT. DOUGLAS PARK TEAROOM is now open for the season. For a day's outing you can't go wrong here. Grand picnic grounds, open air fireplaces. Try it once and you'll go back again and again.

East Sooke is only a step from Victoria but out there you'll find real holiday fun. GLENAIRLEY FARM is a holiday rendezvous for young and old alike. Every kind of outdoor fun here. SEAGIRT a little farther along the East Sooke Road is favored by many others. Here you'll find a quiet, peaceful holiday you'll remember for many months to come.

Declaration Against Conscription

Quebec Legislature Asks Voluntary Enlistments

QUEBEC (CP)—The Legislative Assembly adopted by a vote of 61-7 early today a motion of Cyrille Dumaine, Liberal, Bagot, which urged the provincial lower house to express the wish that the federal government retain its voluntary enlistment policy and not impose conscription for overseas service.

The motion also "reiterates the indefectible will of all members of the house to support the best war effort possible."

Premier Adélard Godbout told the Assembly he was opposed to conscription for overseas service, because "it does not believe that it is the best way to win the war."

"French-Canadians do not believe conscription is the best way of winning the war and they showed it in the plebiscite," he said. "If conscription for overseas were imposed against the wishes of some it might mean the sabotaging of our national unity."

BALANCED EFFORT

"No nation in the world has given a better effort, a more balanced effort than Canada. We believe the effort produced by the people has been magnificent, but we also believe conscription would hinder that effort. However, conscription will not be imposed in Ottawa if Prime Minister Mackenzie King's supporters keep him there. If ever there was a man who is against conscription it is Mackenzie King. No one ever interpreted French-Canadian sentiment better than King.

"There is no difference of opinion on what kind of an effort should be made to win the war, but there are some who are against conscription for overseas and we must respect that opinion."

BACKING PREMIER KING

Earlier in the debate Francois Leduc, Liberal member for Laval, said all Quebec members of the House of Commons should be asked to rally behind Prime Minister Duplessis. "Yes—I

Victory Pageant May 24 To Be Colorful Parade

The pageant of the United Nations to be presented by the schools of Greater Victoria as one of the features of the May 24 celebration in Macdonald Park Monday evening will be a kaleidoscope of color and a parade of history.

Members of the various P.T.A. associations, under the convener-ship of Mrs. H. J. Cunningham, have put days of unremitting labor into preparation of the costumes for the boys and girls, one of each from each public school having been chosen to represent one of the countries in the United Nations.

In the presentation, each boy and girl will parade downstage accompanied by two or four dancers who will present a short national dance representative of each country, this part of the program being under the supervision of Wynne Shaw. As the dance ends, the pair will proceed to their places on the stage for the finale to the accompaniment of their national songs.

The entry into the pageant will be observed by boys dressed in the costumes of Drake, Raleigh and other heroes of the past, their presence being symbolic of the "inspiration" of the glorious records of years ago.

When the representatives are assembled and in their places in tableau, united as one formidable whole, the time will have come to reveal the figure of victory. There, as always she will appear only when this unity has been established; then too, the victory sign "V" will be brought in by a group of smaller girls from Lampson Street School, Esquimalt, and the curtain will open in "V" form to reveal the Miss Victory group.

The pageant will close when

Victoria Well Up In Red Cross Drive

YESTERDAY...IN PLEASURE
CARS
TODAY...IN ARMY TRUCKS

THROUGH MUD AND SNOW, over rocky trails and desert sand, supplies to Empire armies must continue to move. Canadian Nickel helps to give army transport the rugged dependability it must have.

Through years of peacetime research, automotive engineers learned to make use of the extra strength, toughness and durability of Nickel steels. The automotive industry became the world's largest user of Canadian Nickel. Today the accumulated results of automotive research are being used to build army vehicles.

From Canadian mines today comes an increasing stream of Canadian Nickel to make our war vehicles rugged and dependable... to toughen the tools of victory.

May Fingerprint Saanich Pupils

Saanich school children will all be fingerprinted if combined efforts of the Saanich school trustees and the Victoria United Organizations Security Council are successful. This was decided at Wednesday's meeting of the Saanich School Board under the offer of the U.S.C. to undertake the fingerprinting was accepted.

The recently-appointed municipal inspector of schools John Gough, who made his first appearance in that capacity at a trustees' meeting Wednesday, presented copies of circular he has sent to all Saanich teachers suggesting they discuss with pupils the advantage of having a fingerprint record on file, stressing the fact that no child will be fingerprinted without the consent of parents. Mimeographed certificates of such consent have been sent to parents of pupils in the municipality, he reported.

REGISTRATION DISCS

Meanwhile, a secondary means of identification of Saanich school children in the event of an emergency will be registration discs to be supplied to them within a few days.

These discs, the inspector reported, will carry the child's name and year of birth and on the other side the name of parent or guardian and the home address. The discs will be threaded with cord and worn around the child's neck at all times.

On the motion of Trustee Frank Tupman it was decided to apply for membership in the B.C. School Trustees Association.

Trustee Mrs. E. M. Bryce reported complaints from the Saanich Municipality against eviction of the Saanich Goodwill Association from rooms in the old Tolmie Primary School. She explained the board was anxious to co-operate in the matter and would allow the association "a month or two" to find new premises.

The accommodation, Chairman Mark Nelson said, is needed as a new office for the municipal inspector of schools and while one room would still be vacant, its use to store old clothing and goods was not considered hygienic.

In response to a request from the Minister of Education, school children in Saanich will be encouraged to collect scrap rubber.

To 'Crack Down' On Speeders

Magistrate Henry Hall served notice in provincial police court, Wednesday, that he would soon "crack down" on speed limit violators. He fined a man $10 for exceeding the limit on the Four Mile Hill, Island Highway. Police testified that the accused was traveling at 38 miles an hour when stopped.

The magistrate said, although not over 40 miles per hour, the defendant was still speeding and in future heavier fines would be levied.

A soldier, convicted on a charge of dangerous driving on Rocky Point Road, April 21, was fined $20 and $250 costs. His driver's license was suspended for two months.

The conviction arose from an accident, when the soldier's vehicle, an army truck, skidded while going down a grade on Rocky Point Road and crashed into an auto driven by Mrs. Sarah Reed, causing $243 damage.

Two taxi companies were fined $10 each and $250 costs for allowing unlicensed chauffeurs to drive their cabs. The chauffeur of one company was fined $5 and $250 costs.

Two restricted drivers, convicted of driving autos other than the ones to which they were restricted, were fined $5 each and $250 costs. Another motorist was fined $5 and $250 costs for having no driver's license.

Forest Service Ready for Worst

Forestry camp foremen are delighted with the work of alternative service workers—Mennonites and Hutterites—in the woods of this province, Chief Forester C. D. Orchard told the Rotary Club at its luncheon today.

"These men have come here with their religious advisers—in their camps you'll find an atmosphere you won't find in any other camp in British Columbia," Mr. Orchard said. "We all feel these men are going to give us a service of great value."

All the men are between 21 and 28 years of age, Mr. Orchard said, are in A1 physical condition and already have proved their worth in speed and aptitude.

"We feel we must make preparations for what we are afraid will be one of the worst fire seasons ever experienced in B.C., by reason of possible sabotage and enemy air raids," Mr. Orchard said. "The province is fairly well organized—we've had a good number years' experience along this line."

OWNED BY THE PEOPLE

Mr. Orchard disclosed that 90 per cent of the forest wealth of B.C. belonged to the people.

"These forests belong to the public and on forest production we live and are going to continue to live for a long time," he said, adding that 38 cents out of every dollar in the average person's pocket comes out of forest products.

The logging industry of B.C., Mr. Orchard said, had given fine service to the country that was worthy of commendation.

Under the leadership of H. R. MacMillan, the lumber industry literally did marvels, the logging industry introducing price control long before anyone else thought of it.

Mr. Orchard was introduced by Geo. J. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries. At Lindsay, president of the club, thanked Mr. Orchard and also gave a report of the Rotary district conference in Vancouver, at which T. J. Goodlake was elected president of Rotary Pioneers.

Club members stood in silent tribute to the late W. A. Jameson, for 15 years a member of the club.

Lawyer Absent

Speedy trial of Richard Goodfellow, charged with theft of a car April 16 and theft of a revolver April 5, was delayed until late today when Vancouver counsel for the accused failed to appear in County Court.

Goodfellow sought an adjournment to secure counsel. On the suggestion of Gordon A. Cameron, appearing for the Crown, Judge Shandley adjourned the court half an hour to contact the Vancouver solicitor accused said he had engaged. During the interval word was received counsel had missed the plane and the hearing was put off to this afternoon while Goodfellow sought the services of a local barrister.

Thieves Sentenced

James Slater and John F. Hunter, convicted in City Police Court, Wednesday, of stealing from the house of William Lamb, 118 Howe Street, were sentenced to two years and 18 months respectively, today by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

The theft occurred May 8, the pair being arrested by Vancouver police last week and brought back to Victoria to stand trial. Hunter pleaded guilty to the charge, but in view of only one previous conviction and the fact that he had a wife and child in Vancouver, the magistrate made the sentence 18 months. Slater, who pleaded not guilty, but offered no defence of any kind in his own behalf, had nine previous convictions.

When being brought to Victoria, Hunter attempted to escape by leaping overboard from the S. Princess Charlotte under the Lions' Gate Bridge. He was picked up by a fishing boat and returned to the steamer.

Rights Withdrawn Must Be Regained

Members of the legal profession who thronged the courthouse today to welcome Hon. Wendell Farris, recently appointed Chief Justice of the B.C. Supreme Court, were urged by him to see they regained for the man in the street the legal rights he lost in emergent times of war.

"Today—in wartime—there is bound to be a taking away of certain powers of the court. But it is for you gentlemen to watch and see they are regained at the end of the war," the Chief Justice said.

The privileges of the Magna Charta and the right of habeas corpus he cited as highlights in the British history of freedom. In the time of conflict some such benefits were withdrawn, but they should be restored for the man in the street when the emergency ended, he said, declaring the restitution of those rights the duty of the court.

He thanks Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General; W. C. Moresby, K.C., treasurer of the Law Society of British Columbia, and Carew Martin, K.C., president of the Victoria Bar Association, for the greetings and good wishes they had extended to him, recalled his entry into the legal profession in New Brunswick and British Columbia, and declared he had nothing but the kindest feelings for the members of the bar, who, with the bench, formed the court. He paid tribute to his colleagues and friends on the Supreme Court and expressed appreciation for the responsibilities which fell upon him in these particular times.

He and Mrs. Farris, he said, looked forward to many pleasant visits to the capital for which they had a high regard.

EXTEND GREETINGS

Mr. Maitland had spoken of the exceptional ability and experience of the new chief justice brought with him to the bench, and expressed confidence the friendly relations between the bench and the bar would continue, along with the public trust accorded it.

Mr. Moresby associated himself with the remarks of the Attorney-General in extending greetings from the Law Society.

Mr. Martin, voicing a welcome on behalf of the Victoria bar, extended congratulations to Chief Justice Farris on his appointment and joined Mr. Maitland in the view under his guidance the bench and bar would continue to enjoy cordial associations.

Arrangements have been completed for the 88th Battalion C.E.F. annual dinner at the K. of P. Hall at 7 Saturday night. This dinner commemorates the sailing of the 88th Battalion in 1916 for overseas.

TOWN TOPICS

Eighteen fountain pens, three pen and pencil sets and $30 in silver were stolen from the Jubilee Pharmacy, 1801 Fort Street, during the night. Detectives David Donaldson and Fearon Woodburn found entrance had been gained by a lavatory window.

The first aid class of David Spencer Ltd. A.R.P. staff and members of the C.A.T.S. who are attending the classes conducted by F. W. Freeman, Monday evenings at the Strathcona Hotel are asked to note that class next week will be held Tuesday instead of Monday.

Under the auspices of A.R.P. District 7, Saanich, formerly 3C South, a card party will be held at St. Martin's Hall, Obed Avenue, Friday at 8. Funds raised from this party will be used to purchase needed equipment and supplies to enable St. Martin's Hall to function as an evacuation centre in the event of a raid.

Another in the popular series of concerts will be held in the three services Salvation Army Canteen Thursday evening when the Red Shield Concert Party will be in attendance. Men of the three services, their wives and friends are welcome to these parties which are given once or twice a month, and are drawing increasingly large crowds.

W. Woodward, who was the agent in a fish and chip business sale which was eventually annulled because the landlord of premises in which the business was operated objected to its continuance, was entitled to his $40 commission on the sale, according to a majority Court of Appeal judgment received here today, by Joseph McKenna, counsel for Woodward.

HILLSIDE A.R.P. TEST IS SUCCESS

The A.R.P. District 3D, under the District Warden, W. H. Muncy, culminated a series of individual sector practices with a full-scale practice exercise of the whole district in conjunction with the Central Control of the city A.R.P. under the Chief Precaution Officer, Inspector A. H. Bishop, the fire department, the police department, the engineers' department and the city health department.

All the incidents were planned to take place five minutes apart and to range over a wide area, stretching from Hillside Avenue and Douglas Street to Cedar Hill Road and Tolmie Avenue.

The block wardens located their incidents, reported by hand to their senior wardens, who phoned the report to the district control at Quadra School, who in turn phoned to the central control room in the city.

The auxiliary services responded with remarkable promptitude, and the whole exercise closed within five minutes of the scheduled time allowed for the scheme. The official blackout at 10 added to the realism, and so also did the arrival of a real accident case at the Jubilee Hospital about the same time two of our ambulances arrived with four of our casualties.

There were more than 250 people officially connected with the exercise, and all responded eagerly to the call to duty. Praise was given for the readiness and desire displayed by the various services and wardens to co-operate with the central control to make the A.R.P. service to the public as efficient as possible.

Thanks are due to the residents of the district 3D for the way in which they co-operated and the efficiency of the blackout. The wardens of 3D did not have to report one single case of a light showing between 10 and 10.30.

Blackout Good, Technique Bad

Although pleased with the results of the blackout Wednesday night, A.R.P. authorities in Victoria this morning expressed dissatisfaction at the way the blackout was achieved.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, warned citizens that in a practice it might be all right to turn off lights and go outside to watch the results, but in an actual air raid they would be glad to have light inside.

A precautionary blackout, he said, might last for hours, even days or weeks. He urged householders to get materials to blackout their homes, so they could live as usual inside in case of an emergency.

MOTORISTS WARNED

"It was extremely regretful," Inspector Bishop said, "that motorists did not observe the regulations. In future blackouts action will be taken against those who fail to comply with the orders."

Inspector Bishop also said a number of skylights were not blacked out. The question of blacking out head and tail lights on buses was being studied by the transit controller, he said.

Staff Sergeant G. A. Johnson of the provincial civilian protection committee, who observed the blackout from an R.C.A.F. plane, said the blackout was effective and completed quickly.

"A tremendous number of tail lights seemed to be overlooked completely," he said. "They were clearly visible from the air."

A. S. G. Musgrave, head of the Oak Bay A.R.P., also commented on motor traffic lights.

Wardens reported the sirens reception throughout Greater Victoria was good, but A.R.P. officers did not consider it an adequate test as the night was calm.

Military authorities said today they had nothing to report on the blackout but complete reports would be made available later.

ALL-CLEAR SIGNAL

In answer to numerous complaints that the public should be provided with a more adequate all-clear signal, Inspector Bishop said the public would not be so anxious to learn about the all-clear in an actual air raid. He said, however, the question was being considered.

It was suggested the sirens be sounded a second time to inform the public the blackout was over, but the sirens have only two notes, and both are used to announce blackouts, the steady note for a precautionary blackout and the wailing note for an imminent danger blackout.

During practices, Inspector Bishop said, it might be convenient to use the city lighting system to inform the public the test was over. This method, however, would not be effective during an actual raid, because the power service might be disrupted, he said.

Inspector Bishop said that during an actual threat of enemy attack from the air, the precautionary blackout would be in effect all the time. The imminent danger blackout would be sounded only as the planes approached. In England the precautionary blackout has been in effect for months at a time. The all-clear is announced by wardens sounding a clapper.

Fairbridge School Broadcast Friday

Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan will be featured in a special broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation Friday between 5.30 and 6 P.M.

The broadcast will take the form of interviews with children, description of their work, excerpts from letters of boys and girls who have completed their training and now are making their own way in the world and a general review of life at the school.

176,202 Tons Coal Produced in April

B.C. mines in April produced 176,202 tons of coal, compared with 131,042 tons in the same month of 1941, according to the monthly report of James Dickson, chief inspector of mines, released today by Mines Minister Herbert Anscomb.

In March total B.C. production amounted to 186,080 tons. April showed a slight drop, but coal production in B.C. is expected to boom and set new records provided labor can be obtained.

Vancouver Island production in April was as follows: Canadian Collieries (D) Ltd., Comox 37,314 tons, No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, 24,732 tons, Wellington 13,197, Prospect Mine, Extension, 302 tons; other colliers, Cassidy 196 tons, Chambers 451, Deer Home 288 tons, Lake Road 88 tons, Lewis Mine 76 tons, total for island 76,644 tons, compared with 45,808 tons in April, 1941.

East Kootenay district produced most of the coal—86,482 tons last month, compared with 76,008 tons in April a year ago. Nicola-Princeton district produced 12,706 tons, compared with 8,888 tons in April, 1941.

Ask Curtailment French Language

Removal of any post-war rehabilitation body from the sphere of politics, expulsion of the Vichy diplomatic representative in Canada, exclusion of all enemy aliens from B.C. and prosecution of total war by the Dominion government were among the resolutions adopted at today's sessions of the Grand Orange Lodge of British Columbia in the Empress Hotel.

Other resolutions expressed disapproval of extension of the French language for official usage outside the province of Quebec and beyond the provisions of the British North America Act, and of the radio announcement "Ici radio Canada" coming before "This is the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation."

SUPPORT WEIR PLAN

Another resolution reaffirmed the lodge's disapproval of Bible reading as part of the provincial school curriculum. A report was made to the convention by D. B. Rankin of Surrey, chairman of the legislative committee, supporting the plan for Bible study by pupils, drawn up by Dr. G. M. Weir, former Minister of Education, which called for encouragement of Bible study by school children and the granting of credits to be earned extra-murally by members of Grades 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The resolution on the use of the French language contained protests against the fact that the whole of Canada had to bear the costs of bilingual printing of official forms.

Rev. J. Scott of Chilliwack was elected R.W. grand master, succeeding R. W. Wakelin of Vancouver, who becomes R.W. past grand master. Other officers were elected at today's session as follows:

OTHER OFFICERS

Deputy grand master, G. F. Cameron, Vancouver; junior deputy grand master, Rev. W. C. Frank, White Rock; grand secretary, John Grant, White Rock; grand treasurer, E. Bush, Mission City; grand marshal, S. Hunter, Vancouver; grand lecturer, J. Martin, Rossland; deputy grand lecturer, J. R. McDonald, Princeton; deputy grand secretary, H. L. C. Gregg, Vancouver; grand auditors, J. McMillan, Hammond and W. Smith, Vancouver; grand chaplain, Rev. J. W. Miller, Kere-mos; deputy grand chaplains, Rev. H. Lennox, Vancouver; Rev. D. Donaldson, New Westminster, and Rev. J. C. Goodfellow, Similkameen, and representative on the M.W. grand council, M.W. Bro. E. Bush.

The afternoon session was devoted to the ceremonial installation of officers, the convention closing tonight with a banquet and ball.

E. V. ABLETT JOINS WAR PRICES BOARD

E. V. Ablett, former Victoria boy and well known in British Columbia transportation circles, has joined the Wartime Prices and Trade Board as regional director of transportation under the services administration. Mr. Ablett's efforts will be directed towards the elimination of non-essential mileage as applied to common carriers, contract carriers, chartered freight carriers and private freight carriers.

It is all part of the national effort to conserve much-needed equipment, gasoline and rubber for war purposes. Mr. Ablett has had extensive rail and highway transportation experience and for the past three years served as rates examiner for the motor carrier branch of the Public Utilities Commission.

Another well-known British Columbian to join the board is John McHugh, who was resident engineer for the federal Department of Fisheries for 28 years. He will deal with civilian and commercial engineering and metals problems in conjunction with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

George S. Miller, Vancouver lawyer, has been appointed assistant enforcement counsel of the board. Mr. Miller will work with C. W. Brazier, enforcement counsel.

Transit Plan For City Soon

Suggestions covering Victoria's transportation systems will be advanced to the general Greater Victoria transportation committee by S. Sigmundson, regional transit controller, within a week, according to a statement issued by him following a meeting with the Victoria sub-committee on transportation today.

Other than to say the aim of his organization was to eliminate as far as possible use of rubber-tired mileage, Mr. Sigmundson declined to state what line his recommendations would take.

He expressed appreciation of the assistance given him by the Victoria sub-committee composed of G. M. Tripp, B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd.; Harold Husband, Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd.; and H. L. Sangster, Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Co. Ltd. They had given him a clear picture of the local situation which would make possible his recommendation, Mr. Sigmundson said.

Without specifying a definite date, he said his suggestions would be submitted in writing to the general committee which includes Alderman W. L. Morgan, chairman, Alderman F. A. Willis, the three sub-committee members, Councillor Frank Turley, Oak Bay, Reeve Alex Lockley, Esquimalt, and Councillor K. W. Richmond, Saanich.

Chinamen Pay $700 On Liquor Charges

Chow Him and Lee Chow were fined $300 each in city court today when convicted on a charge of keeping liquor for sale at the Don Mee Restaurant, and Wong Jong was fined $100 for having liquor in a restaurant. Represented by P. J. Sinnott, all three pleaded guilty.

The court action came as a result of raids made on the cafe by police on May 15 and 17. A full carton, containing whisky and gin, was exhibited in court as that found May 17 when Sgt. Harry Mercer and police searched the cafe.

Morrison suffered from a cut on the head and Gray was treated for contusion of his right ankle. Dr. W. W. Stewart attended Gray and Dr. J. S. McCallum attended Morrison.

The accident occurred at 4.45 when an auto driven west on Pembroke, by Harry J. Williams, 1807 Fort Street, was in a collision with a car driven south on Shakespeare, by Reginald Mann, 542 Montreal Street. Williams' car continued up Pembroke after the crash, finally turning over on its right side, throwing the two boys out. Damage to both cars was heavy.

"The Home Oil Distributors Ltd., in a letter received at the City Hall today, asked the city's intentions regarding provision of adequate fire protection for its two Huron Street premises, noting the fire hydrant immediately available to the company had been taken over by the V.M.D.

Service station operators are about the only source from which they can get leads on stolen books, police said today. The operators are required to check the license number on the book with the car's license plate. However, they pointed out, it is a fairly simple matter for a thief to erase the inked, or sometimes blue-pencilled license number on the book and put in his own license number.

Another case came to the attention of police today, H. H. Brown, Dominion Hotel, reporting that 8,000 miles in ration coupons had been stolen from his auto—some time earlier in the week.

Police advise all motorists to keep their books on their person and not to leave them in their cars.

2 Boys Injured As Cars Collide

Stewart F. Morrison, seven years old, 1909 Birch Street, and Harold Gray, nine years old, 1907 Ash Street, received emergency treatment at the Jubilee Hospital, Wednesday afternoon, after an accident at Pembroke and Shakespeare Streets, when a car in which they were passengers turned over and threw them out.

Morrison suffered from a cut on the head and Gray was treated for contusion of his right ankle. Dr. W. W. Stewart attended Gray and Dr. J. S. McCallum attended Morrison.

DOMINION PICTURE OF U.S. ARMY LIFE

A novel combination of factual army life and fictional adventure, with Wallace Beery as the star, "The Bugle Sounds," opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

The picture was filmed with the co-operation of the War Department, which permitted camera crews to accompany the regular troops out of Fort Knox Ky., in the war games in Louisiana. Another unit went to Fort Lewis, Wash., and Berry himself made scenes at Fort Ord.

A logical drama of a leather-faced sergeant of cavalry has been woven into the action of the regular army. As a result, when Berry barks and grumbles at his platoon, he has the authentic support of roaring tanks and droning planes, together with thousands of regular army men who went under camera fire for the picture.

Jane Withers Stars In Rio Picture

Love catches Jane Withers unaware in her latest 20th Century-Fox film, "A Very Young Lady," which opened today at the Rio Theatre.

The mud puddle days become mud pack afternoons in this poignant story of "first love." Jane's heart belongs to her school principal—but she doesn't let him know about it until it's almost too late.

Nancy Kelly and John Sutton head the cast of featured players which includes Janet Beecher, Richard Clayton and June Carlson.

Clubwomen's News

Speedwell Circle, King's Daughters, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Griffin. It was decided to send milk to the needy family the circle is interested in for another month. A member will visit another needy family to see if there is anything the circle can do for them.

Thirteen shopping bags were turned in to be sent to England. The circle will give a donation to the Red Cross and also buy some war saving stamps. Miss Doris Tadmam, who is going to be married next month, was presented with a wedding gift, and Mrs. W. H. Griffin, president, who is leaving the circle, was presented with a suitable gift. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The social meeting of the Women's Benefit Association, Review No. 1, was held in the Sons of England Hall Monday evening, the president, Mrs. M. Stephen, in the chair. A report was given of the sewing meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Addison with a good attendance of members. The hostess served refreshments from a table centered with spring flowers. Final arrangements were made for the annual memorial service at First Baptist Church, June 14. The juniors' twilight tea is to be held at the home of Mrs. Pomeroy, 1235 Montrose Avenue, May 29, and the Pioneer Club will also attend in place of its regular meeting. After the business, a successful card party was held with the Pioneer Club in charge of the arrangements. A prize was given to the winner at each table and refreshments served by the social committee.

Mrs. Clare McAllister spoke on "Social Trends in Mexico" at the meeting of the Saanich Women's C.C.F. Council Tuesday afternoon. She said: "Politically, as well as socially, Mexico is in a transition stage. The six-year plan of Cardenas in 1934 placed the main stress on rural education in an attempt to counterbalance scales long weighted in favor of the middle class city folk. In addition there has been a steady control over new industry by a government system of public credit institutions, communal ownership of land, the cooperative movement and labor legislation, backed by a well-organized labor movement." Actually, under democratic forms Mexico is just emerging from a benevolent, tribal paternalism, she noted. In the schools, factories, co-operatives and unions, the former serfs struggle toward an understanding of a collective control over the new sources of power which will some day free them from hunger, the fear of the centuries. Mrs. M. Wright presided at the meeting.

All the gags in the George Brent Joan Bennett farce comedy, "Twin Beds," which is being held over at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, aren't in the script. On the first day of shooting, Brent, at the end of one scene, says good-bye to Miss Bennett and backs into a waiting elevator. The doors close—but a shade too quickly.

To Director Tim Whelan and others behind the camera it looks as though they have shut on the tip of the Brent olfactory organ.

"Are you all right, George?" calls Whelan anxiously.

"Sure," quips Brent from behind the doors. "But I just won by a nose."

"Twin Beds," which is being released by United Artists, is based on the great stage hit of a past theatrical season by Margaret Mayo and Salisbury Field.

ATLAS THEATRE

Arizonians are now sure that Hollywood is slightly crazy.

Twentieth Century-Fox recently bought 10 carloads of slag from the Bisbee, Arizona, mines. This was the first time in 30 years that Bisbee had ever found a customer for its mountains of waste.

But the Hollywood people are not quite as crazy as they appeared to be. The slag was needed to make the Welsh mining town for Richard Llewellyn's "How Green Was My Valley," now at the Atlas, which Darryl F. Zanuck produced, look realistic.

The town, constructed at a cost of $120,000, was complete even to a $40,000 coal mine that includes shafts, railroad spurs, derricks—and slag. The slag covered an entire hillside.

Dorothy Dix: Vital Interest in Life Will End Unhappiness

Dear Dorothy Dix: Why is my life so empty? Surely there is a reason for it. Could it, if the cause were found, eliminate it? Or are such things permanent? Are we scarred inwardly from outside forces, by things we apparently have no control over? I am ill. I am poor. I am young. I am pretty. I am intelligent. I am tired. Please help me.

HUMAN BEING.

Answer: Well, I'm tired, too, tired to the point of exhaustion of having young women write me that their lives are empty when the world is running over with interests and duties and responsibilities and opportunities; when there are lonely people starving for companionship, discouraged people needing to be bucked up, friendless people needing a little love, little children needing to be mothered.

You can't pick up a newspaper without reading a dozen calls for help from women. Women are wanted everywhere for war work, for defence work, for Red Cross work, for hospital work; yet idle women have the nerve to complain about their lives being empty. Believe me, no woman who is doing her bit for her country is suffering from an empty life now. Her life is too full of helpfulness and sympathy to leave any place in it for boredom and that I don't know what ails me feeling.

But lots of women have it and, strange to say, they seem to cherish it instead of taking drastic means to cure it. They enjoy sitting up and pitying themselves because all the prize packages in life haven't been presented to them on a silver salver, and they get a kick out of bemoaning themselves because they aren't glamour girls, or millionaires, or married to Fairy Princes.

They never seem to realize that the luckiest of us would find ourselves in the red if we figured out all our liabilities without crediting any of our assets. For we get out of life just what we put into it, and if we never put into it any courage, any purpose, any unselfishness, any love and care for those about us, our lives are bound to be empty.

You say you are ill. That's bad. But you have all science at your command now to heal you, and you need not feel that your case is hopeless. And, better than any drug known to materia medica, is the stimulant of having some vital interest and purpose in life. So go to work at something that will make you forget your aches and pains and feel that life is still worth living. And, even if you are doomed to invalidism, remember the many heroic women who have carried on from sick beds, that they made shrines to which people came to gather fresh courage and strength to meet their own problems.

You say you are young and pretty and intelligent and yet your life is empty. Be ashamed of it. Fill your bucket so full of good deeds there will be no place in it for repining.

AN EASILY CONSOLED WAR WIDOW

Dear Miss Dix: My dear husband has left me, having been called in the draft. He has been gone three months and I don't know where he is. My old boy friend from out of town wants to start in where we left off before I married my husband. Since I may never see my husband again and I am not getting any younger, do you think it would be all right for me to go out with this man? Nobody in town would ever find out about it. What do you think?

S. M. H.

Answer: Well, I think you are about the most easily consoled war widow I have ever encountered, and that your ability to love the man who is nearest when 'tother one is away, entitles you to take the medal among unfaithful wives.

Apparently you are not giving even a casual thought to your husband who is risking his life to defend you from the fate worse than death that has met the women in the conquered countries in this war. You are not asking yourself how he will feel to know that you could not be true to him even for three months and that the minute his back was turned you took back your old sweetheart because you wanted somebody to take you around and give you a good time.

Pretty shabby treatment, I'd call it. And don't fool yourself in to thinking that he won't hear about your affair with the old boy friend. He will. There is always someone to pass along the bad news.

DOROTHY DIX.

Beets Beat Cane In U.S. Sugar Production

When the common red beet is cooked, we may notice a sweet flavor. Red beets contain a small amount of sugar, but not enough to give them a place in the sugar industry.

Almost two centuries ago a clever scientist learned to take sugar from white beets. The amount of sugar he obtained was small, but it was enough to show the world that the deed could be done.

Does the Cane Beat the Beet? or the Beet Beat the Cane?

Since that time, careful "crossing" of beets has taken place. The average sugar content of sugar beets has been increased from 5 per cent to 16 per cent. Some kinds of sugar beets contain more than 20 per cent of sugar.

Sugar is taken from the thick taproots of the plant. After being hauled to a sugar-beet "factory," the roots are cut into shreds by large slicing machines. The shreds are dumped into huge containers, and warm water is run through, drawing away the sugar.

Steam coils turn much of the "sweet water" into vapor, leaving a syrup. The syrup is heated in a way which makes sugar crystals form.

After being refined, the sugar is almost exactly the same as cane sugar. Much of the beet-pulp is used for livestock.

A record for sugar produced from beets grown on an acre of ground is 4,380 pounds of refined sugar. Sugar cane produces much more sugar per acre than sugar beets. The sugar cane record is held by Java, where sugar weighing 11,000 pounds was taken from a single acre of cane.

Each family in Canada in years of peace consumed on the average about 490 pounds of sugar each year. The average for the United States has been about 550 pounds per family per year.

Those figures include sugar in candy, cakes and other things usually bought in stores. Owing to wartime, we cannot now use up sugar so fast as we did in former years.

Before the First World War, sugar beets came to a point where they supplied almost half of the sugar used by the human race. Since then, cane sugar has climbed well ahead.

In the United States, however, the sugar beets which are raised provide more sugar than cane. In an average year, the sugar cane grown in the United States supplies only about one-fourth as much as the sugar beets.

Oil Heating Finished, Howe Tells Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — Munitions Minister Howe announced in the House of Commons that no oil will be available for heating anywhere in Canada next winter.

Replying to a question on the possibility of home owners having trouble in obtaining fuel oil next winter, he said: "There will be no heating by oil next winter in buildings, factories or homes, or anything else, anywhere in Canada."

The question came from Karl Homuth, Conservative, Waterloo South, Ont., who said he had received a number of inquiries as to what the fuel-oil situation would be in Ontario next winter.

Mr. Homuth suggested a warning be issued as soon as possible if there was to be a shortage.

TRANSFORMATION

"I think I can give that without notice," Mr. Howe said, and he made the announcement which will mean transformation of an untold number of exclusively oil-heating plants to some other form of fuel.

"The minister means that we can take that statement and advise our people that all heating with fuel oil will be stopped for the coming winter," Mr. Homuth pressed.

"That is right," Mr. Howe replied.

The announcement was made during discussion in committee of the whole of the war appropriation bill resolution when the minister was being questioned on the gasoline and oil situation.

"Will the minister give any such drastic information to the committee with respect to natural gas in western Ontario?" Mr. Homuth asked.

Mr. Howe said the natural gas supply was dwindling and it was likely those whose furnaces could be converted to other fuel use would have to convert them.

The munitions minister said on this point: "As to whether furnaces which were installed to burn gas only can be kept going, I am inclined to think that everything possible will be done to avoid the expense of tearing out the furnace and putting in another. But I am sure those who have coal equipment which they are now using for gas will be asked to change back to coal."

George Cruikshank, Liberal, Fraser Valley, asked: "Does that apply to ordinary fuel oil, too?"

"Yes," said Mr. Howe.

DRIVE TO QUEBEC

Discussion of gasoline and oil was precipitated when H. H. Hatfield, Conservative, Victoria-Carleton, N.B., asked if New Brunswick people living near the border could drive across into Quebec.

Newsmen See King Decorate Canadians

One of the few important British wartime events newspapermen were not permitted previously to cover was the ritual of royal investitures. Now D. E. Burritt, Canadian Press staff writer, has been admitted to the ceremony and here tells of his impressions.

By D. E. BURRITT

LONDON (CP) — Another half-dozen of Canada's airmen, including Sgt. Stephen Robert Frost, Vancouver, paraded with the latest contingent of heroes to be decorated by the King in the Great Hall of Buckingham Palace.

Their awards, recognizing deeds performed months ago, already have been announced, but only recently they were summoned to the latest investiture to be decorated personally by the King, who for more than an hour stood on the red dais to present medals and to congratulate scores of his heroic subjects.

Five of the Canadians, all of whom had been promoted since announcement of their awards, received the Distinguished Flying Medal. The remaining one, Sgt. Thomas B. Miller of Saint John, N.B., received the George Medal for rescuing his crewmates from a blazing bomber.

The others—two of whom are in the R.A.F.—were P.O. William Leonard Reinhardt of Stratford, Ont., P.O. Bertram Courtney Paige of Bridgeport, Ont.; W.O. Kenneth Francis Neale of Regina, Sgt. Robert Steel Turnbull of Winnipeg, and Sgt. Frost of Vancouver. All were rewarded for daring, skill and devotion to duty.

MOVING SCENE

It was a moving scene as the almost endless line of men and women, wearing the uniforms of every branch of the war services, and even some in civilian dress, stepped before the King, who was in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

Newspapermen for the first time were allowed to attend the ceremony usually confined to the heroes and their relatives. Even then the liberty was limited, as far as the overseas empire was concerned, to two representatives, one from Canada, the other from South Africa.

Two others represented the home press, and we all were seated among the shy and nervous families of those being decorated.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN

Half an hour before the ceremony was to be started all visitors had to be in their bronzed chairs, which stood in front of a ceiling-high mahogany doorway. Through the slightly opened doors we could see last instructions must convert them into coal burners and only 60 per cent can be converted, said the official.

One oil company official predicted a "wild scramble" for grates and shakers, to make the changeover from oil burners to coal. He said many householders sold the grates as junk when they converted their furnaces into oil burners.

Probably the most uncomfortable were men from the Merchant Navy, one of whom jolted the King with his too hearty handshake.

He was a swaggering, broad-shouldered youngster with unruly hair and cheeks crimsoned by embarrassment. His obvious self-consciousness made him awkward and he stalked up to the King, forgetting to bow. Then he turned to bolt while still gripping the King's hand.

His Majesty eased slightly forward to retain his balance and smiled broadly in appreciation of the situation as the previously prim audience burst into laughter, accompanied by the renewed cries of the banished infants.

All the Canadians displayed comparative dignity, but many of the merchantmen failed to bow and proffered their hands without waiting for the King's.

Even two trim Women's Auxiliary Air Force members were in the line. They, along with a nurse and a young woman in civilian clothes, provided the only curtsies of the day.

UNEHEARSED

Probably the most uncomfortable were men from the Merchant Navy, one of whom jolted the King with his too hearty handshake.

He was a swaggering, broad-shouldered youngster with unruly hair and cheeks crimsoned by embarrassment. His obvious self-consciousness made him awkward and he stalked up to the King, forgetting to bow. Then he turned to bolt while still gripping the King's hand.

His Majesty eased slightly forward to retain his balance and smiled broadly in appreciation of the situation as the previously prim audience burst into laughter, accompanied by the renewed cries of the banished infants.

All the Canadians displayed comparative dignity, but many of the merchantmen failed to bow and proffered their hands without waiting for the King's.

Even two trim Women's Auxiliary Air Force members were in the line. They, along with a nurse and a young woman in civilian clothes, provided the only curtsies of the day.

Finds No Interest In Reserves

General Says Victoria Needs to Know War Is On

"Don't the people of Victoria know there's a war on?" asked Maj. Gen. B. W. Browne, D.S.O., M.C., director-general of the reserve army, interviewed here at the conclusion of a one day conference with military leaders Wednesday.

"Don't the men here want to defend their country," he said. "Surely they've heard of the possibility of an invasion, but perhaps they don't know the reserve army, the people's army, is charged with the definite objective of defence."

Saying that he had discovered Victoria reserve units were considerably below strength, Maj. Gen. Browne refused to commit himself on the subject of conscription for this branch of the service, but added significantly: "There is a reserve army and it's going to be up to strength one way or another."

MAY BE NEEDED

The reserve chief said he could not discuss matters of strategy in connection with possible mobilization of reserves, but said that eventually the men in the active army now in Canada might be utilized elsewhere. In such event, he said, someone will have to take their places.

Referring to the militia rangers, several units of which have been formed on the Pacific coast, Maj. Gen. Browne said this branch was a matter for district officers commanding, but that they must not interfere with enlistment in the reserve army.

Training in the reserve army is now more interesting and more practical, he said.

"Reserves are being taught to fight, trained in the use of weapons, and in field tactics, and training sessions are staggered not to conflict with a man's business obligations," he said.

APPEALS TO EMPLOYERS

Maj. Gen. Browne appealed to employers to co-operate with the reserves by allowing their employees time off with pay for training.

"We realize," he added, "that we must co-operate with employers in return and, as far as possible, we do so."

One type of man particularly sought, he said, was that in the age group too young for the last war and too old for this one, the married of 38 or so with a business to look after, a family to support or other financial obligation that might reasonably excuse him from enlistment in the active army.

"It is for these," he said, "that the reserve army is maintained so that they may be trained and ready to serve in the defence of their country when required.

No inspections were held in Victoria by Maj. Gen. Browne, who spent the day conferring with the G.O.C.-in-Chief and other officers, trying to find means to bring the reserve here up to strength. He left for Vancouver en route back to Ottawa Wednesday night.

WOMEN PAY BIG PRICE FOR POOR "BLOOD MAKEUP"

You women who feel and look "washed out"—limp and droopy—may be paying the price of hemoglobin shortage in the blood. The demands of monthly "periods" pregnancy, etc., all conspire to bring about this shortage of the vital red coloring matter in the red blood cells. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

They help increase hemoglobin, where there is a shortage of it due to iron deficiency and help chase away that "leaden" feeling of tiredness so often due to this condition. Start your course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. Ask your druggist.
